His Star Rises In Dixie

Ike Backers Hope Democratic South Will Aid Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

Backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower are turning to the Democratic South for what they say will be the balance-of-power delegate strength needed to win the general the Republican presidential nomination.

Optimistic supporters from 11 states, saying popular southern support is growing for Eisenhower, met at Atlanta, Ga. yesterday to map strategy.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio currently has the inside track after intensive southern campaigning and long association with GOP leaders in the south.

Major presidential campaigning rolled on in Nebraska, Wisconsin and Illinois, all with forthcoming primaries.

Taft made a formal request that his name be removed from the New Jersey primary election ballots. His Washington headquarters said Taft wrote New Jersey officials from Wisconsin, where he is on a speaking tour. Taft has accused New Jersey's Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of political trickery in throwing the state's GOP organization behind Eisonhower. Driscoll denied it. The primary is April 15.

Taft Draws Big Audience

Taft, stumping northern Wisconsin, drew the biggest audience of the state's April 1 primary campaign Friday when 2,000 in Wausau heard him demand sweeping reorganization of the State Department.

Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor seeking the GOP nomination visited the Fox River Valley industrial area of Wisconsin, and Gov. Earl Warren of California, another GOP candidate, moved through the southern tip of the state. Warren's place on the ballot was unsuccessfuly protested.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who is pitted against Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma in the Nebraska Democratic primary on April 1, moved into that state yesterday. Plagued by bad weather, he doggedly continued his rugged schedule.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, regarded as a Taft supporter, in a speech to a joint session of the Mississippi legislature at Jackson, said the present administration is leading the nation into Communism and war in Europe. He did not mention either Taft or Truman by name.

An official write-in campaign for Eisenhower loomed in the Nebraska primary, but Illinois supporters decided not to sponsor a similar drive in that state's April 8 vote.

The Delaware state GOP committee set April 30 as the date for the party's convention to elect delegates.

Gruenter Arrives In U.S.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff of Eisenhower's NATO command, arrived in Washington and said European defense is improving — but he had no word about whether the General will return home any time soon.

California Democrats may still have two candidates fighting for their 69 convention votes: Kefauver and Kerr. Kefauver already is entered in the June 3 primary, and Kerr's intentions to do so were announced by John B. Elliott, a prominent Los Angeles Democrat. Truman has pulled out of the primary.

Meanwhile, Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) urged all candidates to observe a "code of fair practices": No scurrilous literature, no fake pictures, and limited campaign expenditures with a full report later on how much is spent.

Party Chief Denies Rift With Truman

MIAMI, Fla., March 22—(AP)—Democratic Chairman Frank E. McKinney said today that he and President Truman were "in perfect agreement and absolute accord."

He made the statement just before boarding a plane for Washington three days after he was quoted as saying in Key West that the President "may not chose" to run if a satisfactory peace is arranged in Korea.

Mr. Truman told reporters the next day that Korea does not enter into the politics of this country at all, and had no bearing whatever on what he may decide to do.

This rebuff, coming after the President's defeat in the New Hampshire primary, raised doubt whether McKinney would be Democratic Chairman much longer. He took over last October from William M. Boyle, Jr., who resigned.

McKinney Has No Doubts

McKinney himself felt no such doubt today after a leisurely cruise from Key West aboard the 50-foot yacht "Merry Mac."

"My conferences with the President have proved very fruitful," he said. "We are in perfect agreement and absolute accord."

The Democratic Chairman said his comments at the Wednesday press conference "have been misinterpreted."

He went over the reported conflicting points one by one in this manner:

1. The May 15 date he mentioned as the deadline by which he expected the President to make a statement as to his availability was McKinney's "hope" and not the target date set by the President.

2. The opinion expressed that Korean developments would play a paramount part in the President's decision whether to seek re-election again was merely McKinney's opinion and that the President did not indicate this in any way.

3. The President still has made no decision on whether he will run and has not set a target date and that when the President is ready to announce one way or another he will do so.

"Any differences which may have been construed are the result of misinterpretation," McKinney declared.

May 15 Date McKinney's

"I told the reporters at Key West West and I reiterated it three times—that the May 15 date was my hope for a target date for the President's decision and not the date set by the President, and I have a transcript to prove it."

Asked whether he had indicated his desire to the President for a decision by May 15, the Democratic Chairman replied: "I can't comment on that."

Did he think the President was "mad at him?"

"Absolutely not," McKinney replied. "He told me at Key West that I was doing a god job and when I left to go aboard the cruiser, he walked two blocks to the dock with me."

Grain Market Scores Small Gains Saturday

CHICAGO, March 22 — (AP) — Grains worked a little higher on the Board of Trade today, stimulated by a modest export business and some foul winter weather in the corn belt. Trading in March contracts ended without any excitement.

France bought two cargoes of hard wheat and Holland took one cargo of corn . Reports to local houses from stations in Iowa emphasized fairly heavy snows. This might make it difficult for farmers to haul corn to market over country roads, traders said.

Wheat closed unchanged to ¾ higher, corn ⅜ to 1 cent higher, oats ⅛-1½ higher, rye ¾ lower to ½ higher, and soybeans 5¾ lower to ½ cent higher.

The market declined this week after two successive weeks of advances. For the most part the ground lost was not large, although March contracts in wheat, rye, soybeans and lard were freely liquidated by those who did not wish to stand for delivery of the cash commodities.

Falling prices brought wheat quite close to the lows established Feb. 27, but other cereals held well above that point. Wheat lost 17⅜-3⅝, corn was ¾ lower to 1½ higher, oats ⅞-1¾ lower, rye ¼ to 6 cents lower and soybeans 3¼-10½ lower.

Five Men Going To Service From County March 26

Five Sedalia young men leave on Wednesday, March 26, for Kansas City for induction into the armed services. They will be assigned to either the Army or Marines.

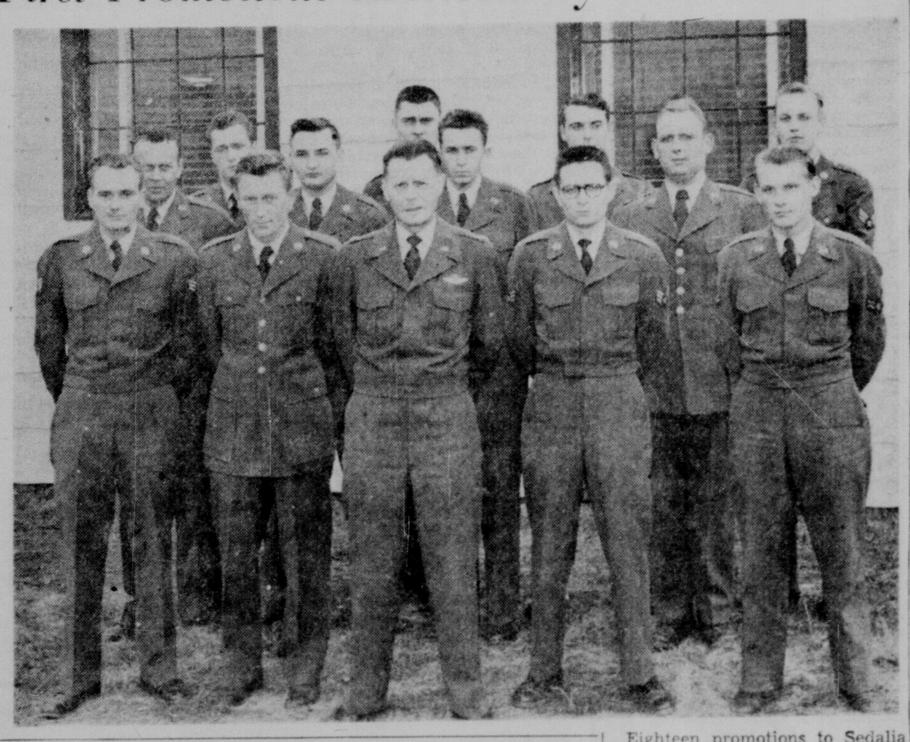

The five are: Roy Zeb Thomas, Hughesville; Harvey E. Wadleigh, Green Ridge; Robert E. Smith, 216 West Sixth; Emmett W. Fairfax, route 2, Sedalia; and Leo V. Shanahan, L. Monte. They comprise the entire March quota to enter the service through Selective Service from Pettis County.

This is the smallest group to leave Pettis County since Selective Service was re-instated because of the Korean trouble. The other small group was in December 1950 when only three were called.

Defense Dept. Lists 85 New Casualties

WASHINGTON, March 22—(AP)—The Defense Department today identified 85 more battle casualties in Korea in a new list (No. 526) that reported 18 killed, 58 wounded and nine injured.

First Promotions Received By 18 At SAFB

Eighteen promotions to Sedalia Air Force men were announced by Lt. Col. Leonard S. Flo, commanding officer of the SAFB, the past week. Four men received promotions earlier in the week, the first since the base was reactivated, with fourteen more being promoted a few days later. The Board of Promotions is headed by Maj. Wallace H. Jamison, as president, with the following members — Maj. James Burlingame, Capt. John R. Gibson, 1st Lt. George F. Graul, and 1st Lt. William H. Buffo, the latter who also acts as recorder.

Others who received promotions and not in the picture are: S/Sgt. Lawrence F. Willey to Tech Sergeant; Cpl. Arnold Wilson to Sergeant; Pfc. Donald Taylor to Corporal; Pfc, John J. Andrus to Corporal; Pfc. Floyd T. Holsomback to Corporal.

Kem Receives Another Foe In Symington

ST. LOUIS, March 22—(AP)—W. Stuart Symington of St. Louis, former aide of President Truman, announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator from Missouri.

Whether he will get the President's active support is a matter that has politicians guessing.

Until his recent resignation as head of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., Symington was one of Mr. Truman's top trouble-shooters. And while the President hasn't openly expressed himself on any candidate, his Jackson County Pendergast Organization has already come out for Attorney General J. E. (Buck) Taylor.

Slaughter The 'Third Man'

A third candidate in what promises to be an interesting contest is Roger C. Slaughter of Kansas City, former Democratic Congressman "purged" by President Truman in 1948.

The three are seeking the seat now held by Sen. Kem (R-Mo), who has been bitterly critical of Truman's administration. Kem has been actively campaigning for re-election for several months.

Symington, 50, was a former president of Emerson Electric Co., of St. Louis. His first government job was manager of War Surplus Property. From there he became the nation's first Secretary of the Air Force and then Chairman of the National Security Resources oBard before he was ordered by President Truman to clean up the RFC.

Attorney General Taylor is a veteran politician and a close friend of the President's.

Taylor Not Surprised

In Jefferson City, Taylor said he was not surprised at Symington's announcement—"nor does it change a bit my plans to win the nomination for U. S. Senator."

In announcing his candidacy at a news conference here today, Symington said he would earnestly seek the support "of every voter in the state."

America faces grave problems from within and without, he said, and if these problems are not solved the country "may well end in economic chaos—or even in spiritual and political slavery."

Plastic Tape Saves City's Water Supply

NEWARK, O., March 22—(AP)—It wasn't a little boy's finger in the dike that saved Newark's water supply — it was plastic tape.

For 11 hours yesterday, this city of 35,000 was threatened with complete loss of water service. Back pressure built up in a 30-inch line in the pumping station. This caused two breaks in a 20-inch pipe. The reservoir level dropped six feet.

Temporary repairs were made by wrapping four-inch plastic tape around the breaks. In a little less than 24 hours, the system was back in order.

Allies Study New Proposal On PW Trade

MUNSAN, Sunday, March 23—(AP)—Puzzled but patient Allied negotiators today gave another careful look to the newest Communist plan on prisoner exchange in hopes of finding a solution to the truce-blocking issue.

The Reds insisted their two-sentence proposal of Friday contained something new and embodied a solution to the exhausting deadlock.

Allied negotiators had another chance to question them in talks beginning at 8 p.m., CST, Saturday at Panmunjom.

Diligent searching earlier had failed to unearth any switch in the old Communist demand for forced patriation of all prisoners of the Korean War.

A U. N. command spokesman Saturday night called it "almost a ludicrous situation."

"We have a fine treasure hunt going on," the spokesman said. "The Communist keep saying there's a treasure in their proposal. We say we've looked and can't find it. They say look again—it is there.

"We have yet to find it. That is why we are being much slower to give another cateforical rejection. It is the job of the staff officers to ferret out that something new."

The proposal's exact wording is: "After the armistice agreement is signed and becomes effective, the Korean People's Army and the Chinese People's Volunteers shall release and repatriate all of the 11,559 prisoners of war in their custody, and the United Nations command shall release and repatriate all of the 132,474 prisoners of war in its custody.

"The lists of the names of the prisoners of war stated above shall be finally checked by the staff officers of both sides."

The Figures are the number of names carried on the respective prisoner of war lists traded Dec. 18.

This proposal carried a broad hinte by the Reds that they were willing to wipe off the books many thousands of men on both sides whose names failed to appear on the December list.

Boy Instantly Killed East Of Princeton, Mo. As Tractor Overturns

PRINCETON, Mo., March 22—(AP)—Johnny Hunter, 17-year-old farm boy who tried to get into the Korean War last year before the Army found he was under-age, was killed instantly today when a tractor overturned on him.

Hunter, who had been farming with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hunter, eight miles east of Princeton, was cutting ballast from an abandoned railroad right of way near here when the tractor slipped off the roadway and overturned.

The boy enlisted in the Army last winter and got as far as Hawaii before authorities discovered he was only 16. He was discharged last June 27 and returned home. On July 15 he married Shirley Shaffer and on July 27 celebrated his 17th birthday.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete tonight.

Youth Rushes To Join Army After Call Here

A Pettis County young man who failed to report for induction on Feb. 7 is now in the Army. The young man, upon learning his name had been given to the United States district attorney at Kansas City and that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was looking for him, reported the first of the week.

When told by Mrs. Verna Williams, cleark of the local Selective Service Board, he had the following choices of five years imprisonment, 10,000 fine or accepting immediate induction his decision was to take the latter. The young man, within 45-minutes after reporting to the local board before being apprehended by the FBI was enroute to Kansas City where he was inducted.

According to Mrs. Williams, the man had left Sedalia and went to Pennsylvania where he was working. He learned of his predicament through relatives and immediately returned to here.

44 Persons Die In Plane Crash In West Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 22—(AP)—The Royal Dutch Airliner Dutch Queen Juliana planned to use on her state visit to the U. S. crashed explosively on a rain-fogged landing attempt today and killed 44 of 47 persons on board.

There were four immediate survivors but one, an Egyptian named Girgis Fouad, died tonight from body burns.

The plane, named the Queen Juliana, hit in a suburban thicket. It was the worst plane disaster in Germany history.

Bound from Johannesburg to Amsterdam, the 4-engined DC-6 mowed treetops for a quarter mile in an instrument approach to the Rhine-Main airport through murky weather and then slammed into the ground with a loud explosion two miles short of the runway.

Flames licked swiftly across the wreckage and into spindling evergreens around it, hissing under a drizzling rain. Two engines and parts of the wings lay to the rear.

All four survivors, two men and two women, were injured. Three of these were passengers. The other was the Dutch stewardess, Miss A. J. G. Gautier. All were rushed to a U. S. Air Force Hospital at the airport, which handles both military and civilian traffic. One died later.

The "Queen Juliana" was named for the ruler of the Netherlands. There had been plans for the Queen to ride that plane to Washington, where she is to start her state visit April 2.

The plane's pilot was L. E. J. Poutsma, a Dutchman. One of the victims listed by Rome airport authorities was an American, John Bickford. They did not have his home address.

Snow Changes Show Schedule

WINDOM, Minn., March 22—(AP)—The Windom Theater scheduled a double feature for tonight.

One of the pictures was "South to Calinente." The other was "North To The Klindike."

A blizzard-like storm moved into the state early today and by tonight had deposited 12 inches of snow, forcing a change in plans.

The surviving picture? "North To The Klondike," naturally.

The Weather

Partly cloudy northeast and extreme no. h; Otherwise generally fair Sunday with diminishing winds; colder southeast and not quite so cold northwest portion; Monday fair and warmer; high Sunday in 30s.

More Twisters Keep Southeast On Alert

Workers Comb Back Regions Of Missouri

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Mar. 22—(AP)— Hundreds of workers searcher back road areas late today for additional victims of a blitz tornado which is known to have taken 13 lives in southeast Misouri.

Twelve of the dead have been identified. They included Ed Stagg, 42, of Cottonwood Point, Mo., his 12-year-old son and a 10-year-old daughter.

Their bodies were found a short distance from their home which was demolished along with scores of other buildings by the fierce twister that struck after dark last night.

The 13th victim was an unidentified Negro.

At least 66 persons were injured in the tornado. Most were taken to hospitals at Hayti, Mo., and Blytheville, Ark.

Cooter Hit Hard

The tornado, accompanied by hail and heavy rain, struck briefly at Blytheville—five miles south of the Misosuri line—and then slammed hard on the outskirts of Cooter, Mo.

Farm homes and other buildings were smashed into heaps of soggy rubble. Automobiles were overturned. Trees were torn out of the ground by their roots.

Around Hayti this afternoon the highways were jammed with automobiles as thousands of persons sought frantically to get in touch with relatives. Telephone service was out in some sections. In others, the lines were swamped.

State highway patrolmen, deputy sheriffs and Red Cross workers tourned the spongy backroads in a search for more victims. Broken telephone poles littered some roadways.

Searcy Situation Bad

Farther south near Searcy, Ark., the situation was worse. Louis Errico, a St. Louis auto salesman, said the storm almost shoved his car off the road last night between Searcy and Judsonia, Ark.

He said he counted about 30 wrecked automobiles in about two miles.

"The highway was a tangle of fallen telephone poles and electric wires," Errico related. "On some of the wires that were still up, I saw sheets of the corrugated iron they use for roofs in that part of the country."

Survivors said the Missouri tornado was preceded by a terrifying roar—and then a few moments of utter silence.

Local Red Cross Asked To Assist In Tornado Fund

Philip McLaughlin, chairman of the Pettis County chapter of the American Red Cross, received the following telegram Saturday afternoon concerning the tornado:

"The severe damage inflicted in communities in Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Mississippi by yesterday's tornado will require a heavy expenditure of Red Cross funds already seriously depleted by previous disasters this fiscal year. Details of losses and Red Cross activities will be furnished as soon as possible. In the meantime your regular March campaign goal is immediately increased by 10 per cent. Please inform your fund chairman at once and mobilize all campaign workers to start now on this important assignment. Ask those who have already contributed to give again. Those not yet solicited should be asked to increase their planned contribution."

Federal Examiner To Check Local Naturalization Seekers

C. J. Long, examiner for the U. S. Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service, will be in Sedalia on Monday March 24 at the office of Circuit Clerk Bryan Howe.

Long will examine applicants for naturalization.

He will be at the office from 10 a. m. until all applicants have been interviewed.

One Missouri Victim Remains Unidentified

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., March 22—(AP)—Twelve of the 13 persons known to have been killed in last night's tornado in southeast Missouri were identified today as:

Ed Stagg, 42, of Cottonwood Point, a son, 12, and a daughter, 10.

Mrs. Lillian Hamlet of Blytheville, Ark.

Mrs. Melissa Bass, St. Louis.

Calbert Castman, 38, Cooter, Mo.

Alice Young, 10.

Merele Jean Fennell, 9 months, Cottonwood Point.

Gilbert Blachett, 34, Cooter.

George Clauson.

Mrs. Juanita Newsom.

Rufus Johnson, a baby.

The 13th victim was an unidentified Negro.

Blizzard Hits Kansas, Iowa And Nebraska

GOODLAND, Kan., March 22—(AP)—A March blizzard, the worst of the winter, swept across northwestern Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa today disrupting telephone and telegraph communications and blocking off highway travel.

The storm, spawned two days ago in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado and Wyoming, brought snowfall totaling from 10 to 15 inches and winds up to 65 miles an hour. Highways already blocked by the heavy snow were sealed up by the towering drifts whipped up by the winds of gale force.

Thirty passengers were stranded on a snowbound bus 12 miles east of here for more than 15 hours. They were rescued today by a rescue crew which first had to retrieve another crew and snowplow which became bogged down in the huge drifts.

The passengers were housed and fed in a schoolhouse at Edson, Kan., and will be brought to Goodland as soon as the road can be cleared.

All Nebraska Roads Closed

All roads in Nebraska were closed, the Highway Department reported, and highway travel in northwest Kansas was halted.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company reported 638 long distance lines down in Kansas, and at least 28 towns were without phone service.

A transport truck, and at least one other automobile were stalled near the bus.

With all roads in northwestern Kansas closed and communication lines down there was no way of knowing immediately whether other motorists might be stranded on the highways.

The snowfall in the Kansas-Nebraska area ran up to 10-15 inches. Winds ranged up to 65 miles in Nebraska and 30-40 miles an hour in northwestern Kansas.

Northeastern Iowa was snowbound by one of its worst spring blizzards in years. Visibility was zero and highways were blocked by snow up to eight inches.

Many Nebraska communities reported that foot travel was the only way to get about in the towns. Main line trains were running, but hours late. The last airliner arrived in Omaha at 4:50 p.m. Friday.

Wind Force Unusual

The Weather Bureau reported the sustained force of the winds in Nebraska was exceptional. In some points in central Nebraska gales of 50 miles an hour had been blowing for 36 hours.

The Weather Bureau warned Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa to brace for the storm. Five to ten inches of snow and heavy winds were forecast for those states.

Butte, Mont., reported its lowest temperature for so late in the year —17 degrees below zero.

Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, first to feel the storm's lash, had clearing and warmer weather today with up to two feet of snow on the ground and many impassable drifts.

Eastern Kansas and Missouri missed the brunt of the storm.

Death Toll Reaches 206 In 6 States

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 22—(AP)—The dark threat of new tornadoes kept the southeast on the alert tonight as dazed and stricken communities, recording a dreadful toll of storm dead, found a measure of relief on two counts.

Casually figures revised by the American Red Cross lowered the cost in human life of storms that scourged a six-state area yesterday and today to 206. An earlier count neared 250.

And President Truman ordered a federal survey of tornado damage with a view of bringing relief to those hurt and made homeless by the storms and of providing federal funds to aid the heavily damaged communities.

The President at his vacation White House at Key West, Fla., kept in close touch with the flurry of deadly tornadoes and floods which also injured more than a thousand and left other thousands bewildered and homeless.

Damage Impossible To Set

The Red Cross said it was impossible to set a figure for the damage done to widespread sections of Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Missouri and Alabama.

Estimates, however, already had overspread the multi-million dollar mark as quick surveys were made of leveled homes and other structures, damaged buildings and equipment, ravaged crops, and the loss of livestock.

While the latest death toll of 206 brought a sharp revision downward of earlier counts, some rescue workers feared that additional dead might be found amid wreckage and twisted debris yet to be probed.

The possibility of additional misery for the south came in a special bulletin issued by the weather bureau at Atlanta at 8:15 p. m. (EST).

The bulletin noted that showers and heavy thunderstorms were occurring in parts of Alabama and eGorgia, and added the ominous note: "There is a possibility of some tornadoes developing tonight in Georgia, extreme eastern Alabama, and western South Carolina."

An earlier weather advisory issued at Washington carried the threat that tornadoes might plunge anew in Tennessee and Alabama and spill over in Kentucky—already damaged by rampant flood waters—Virginia, and West Virginia.

Four Die In Alabama

The latest addition to the frightful list of the storm dead came from Alabama, where three storms within a few hours late today killed four persons, demolished homes, and added to the wretched groups of the homeless.

The dead were reported at Hartselle in the northwestern quarter of the state, and in the Winton community. Also hit in Alabama were Jemison and Tuscaloosa.

The latest roster of the dead by states:

Allies Repulse Enemy Assault On West Front

SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, March 23 — (AP) — Allied Infantrymen smashed a company-sized Communist attack on the western Korean front Saturday. An Eighth Army spokesman said the Reds fled in disorder.

Overcast skies limited aerial action to a few close-support strikes against Communist positions on the eastern front. Fifth Air Force pilots reported several Red supply buildings near Kosong were destroyed.

The Eighth Army reported that a reinforced Red Company—about 250 men—attacked Allied advance positions west of Chorwon in predawn darkness Saturday.

Within 10 minutes, the Reds had cut communications to the main Allied line. They used recoilless rifle fire, hand grenades, mortars and machineguns.

Allied reinforcements rushed up and artillery blasted the Reds. frontline officers reported the Communist broke and ran.

Two minor probing attacks by North Koreans on the eastern front also were repulsed. Elsewhere only patrol contacts were reported.

Joplin Man Arrested For Possessing Drugs

JOPLIN, Mo., March 22—(AP)—Otis Kane Kirby, a 31-year-old Joplin truck driver, was arrested today on his return from El Paso, Tex., for questioning in connection with an investigation of a reported traffic in barbiturate drugs in this district.

Officers said Kirby had in his possession a phial containing 25 benezydrene tablets which Kirby is said to have stated he purchased in Juarez, Mex. He denied selling or distributing the drug. No charge was filed against him for possession of the tablets, but a charge of possession contraceptives was filed to hold him, officers said, over the week-end for further investigation.

Pittsburgh-Corning Payroll Totals Over Million In '51

With a payroll totaling more than one million dollars, the Sedalia plant of the Pittsburgh-Corning Corp., produced 20,000 tons of glass blocks and 5,000 tons of foamglass during 1951.

These figures have just been released to the Democrat-Capital by officials of the firm in answer to a request made by the newspaper. The figures show the corporation's investment in Sedalia is estimated at five million dollars. The 1951 payroll was $1,000,000.

In giving the report, it was stated:

20,000 tons of glass were melted in Sedalia Works No. 3 last year for production of PC Glass Blocks, and

5,000 tons of glass were melted in Sedalia Works No. 4 for production of Foamglass.

Along with the figures, and the estimated value and payroll, the officials reported the corporation used $170,000 in Sedalia utilities—oil, gas, water and electricity, during the year.

Local disbursements for freight on incoming materials in 1951 ran to a figure of $265,000. One thousand freight cars were used in shipping Pittsburgh-Corning products out of Sedalia during the 12 month period.

Cooties and Lady Bugs Will Take Over Sedalia Saturday

The Grand Order of the Military Order of The Cooties of Missouri and the Royal Order of the Military Order of the Lady Bugs will hold their C. A. meeting in Sedalia on March 29.

These two organizations are the fun units of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and sprang into being following World War II. Although they are known primarily for their fun activities as the Shriners are to the Masonic Order, they, too, have a project that is worthy, as do the Shriners with the hospitals for crippled children.

The Cooties and Lady Bugs make two visits a year to the veterans hospitals nearest to them—the Sedalia group going to Springfield. With them they take gifts and needs for the patients there as well as entertainment. All the money obtained through the year by these organizations is spent in helping the veterans in the hospital and trying to brighten their lives as much as possible.

Plans have been made for a parade Saturday March 29, providing the weather permits. This will be a colorful affair, with a drill team added to the uniformed Cooties and Lady Bugs. The Cooties wear white trousers with red stripes, white shirts with a big bug on the back, red hats and ties. The Lady Bugs wear white satin blouses, red skirts, red shoes and red hats with bugs on them.

The banquet will be served at the St. Patrick's school hall at 6:30 p. m. by the ladies of that church.

The Lady Bugs will hold their meeting at the St. Patrick's hall while the Cooties will meet at the Bothwell Hotel.

Majestic Lady Gold Bug Olive Morton of Indianapolis, Ind., will make her official visit at the C. of A. meeting and Royal Lady Gold Bug Clare Linde of Kansas City will preside.

Indonesia Has Tried In Vain For Language

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia is making little headway in its two-year old campaign to curb the Dutch language.

The official language is Indonesian—but three centuries of Dutch culture die hard.

When the former Netherlands administration transferred sovereignty to the Indonesians, 90 per cent of the people were illiterate. The small Indonesian intelligentsia that existed was Dutch-educated.

The government banned Dutch from the curriculums of state-run elementary and secondary schools. It changed names of cities and streets. Batavia became Jakarta. Buitenzorg became Dogor. The capital's fashionable avenue, Oranje Boulevard, was changed to Jelan Imam Bondjol.

Today, however, this independent nation has nine Dutch language newspapers whose circulations vie with Indonesian-language papers The state-controlled Jakarta radio still features a Dutch language program. Audience reaction indicates a high percentage of Indonesian listeners.

In Jakarta, crowds jam movie theaters which mostly show American and British films with Dutch subtitles. A year ago film makers began imprinting Indonesian as well as Dutch on the films. In the universities the professors are largely Dutch or Dutch-educated and the textbooks are in that language. After the ban on the European language in schools, graduate students coming to university had a difficult time. The government then had to reverse its policy and reintroduced the Netherlands language in senior high school classes. It emphasized this was a temporary expedient.

The latest plan is to provide Hollander professors with Indonesian interpreters. In some cases lectures are permitted in English.

Dutch keeps cropping up in everyday conversations. An Indonesian reporter recently queried a leftist politician who had just finished a speech attacking "Dutch imperialism." The Indonesian politician replied:

"Geen Commentaar". That's Dutch for no comment.

Student Ruins 1500 Copies of Paper

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A Buffalo State Teachers College student has admitted he damaged 1,500 copies of the school paper because he didn't like the way the editors cut down an article he wrote.

Dean Ralph Horn said last night the student, a senior, has been suspended. He declined to name him.

Dean Horn said the student admitted he was so incensed by the editing of his article that he cut it out of 1,500 copies. Horn did not say how much the article was shortened.

Japanese Emigrate to Brazil

SINGAPORE (AP)—Forty-six Japanese emigrants stopped off here recently on their way to settle permanently in Brazil.

Most of them spent their few hours ashore shopping in Singapore's well stocked shops. Said one of the Japanese: "It is good to be able to get these things. It is very difficult to live in Japan these days."

Women Must Be Ready To Bear Arms, Red Defendant Declares

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Women must be ready to bear arms for the Socialist revolution, federal conspiracy defendant Loreeta Stack is quoted as telling a 1948 Communist party meeting.

Mrs. Stack, one of 15 California Communists on trial here, yesterday heard FBI undercover man Timothy Evans Jr. testify:

"She said women were to play the same role they played in Russia to bring about the revolution and in overthrowing the present economic system, not in part, but in its entirety . . ."

Evans' testimony was the first in the long trial to put words of violence into the mouth of a defendant. Earlier he had named five other defendants as instrumental in party affairs in Oakland.

Ag Department Wants Foreign-Grown Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department wants to buy or barter for foreign-grown extra long staple cotton for military stockpiling.

This country does not produce enough of this type cotton for its needs. Most of it comes from Egypt.

The exact amount wanted is confidential. The department said yesterday it would accept offers March 31 but would reserve the right to reject any offer.

Any barter deals would involve the exchange of U.S. farm products held under the price support program.

The department also asked lard processors to submit bids to supply 1½ million pounds for Army use in the Ryuku Islands.

Tools used for plaster work in the pyramids of Egypt are practically identical with tools used by modern plasterers.

State Department Threatens Crackdown on Propagandists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department today threatened more crackdowns on Iron Curtain embassies and legations in this country which distribute abusive propaganda against the United States.

Department informants said the shutdown yesterday of a magazine published by the Polish Embassy was intended partly as a warning to other Red governments.

Behind the American attitude appears the basic policy belief that the maintenance of U.S. diplomatic missions behind the Iron Curtain is desirable—but not at any price.

Secretary of State Acheson ordered the Polish Embassy to cease publishing its magazine "Poland Today," which comes out every two months, and to issue no more press releases the State Department considers improper.

In his rebuke to Ambassador Jozef Winiewicz, Acheson indicated further decisive steps would be taken if the order is not followed.

The American protest was against violent denunciation of this country's hearing on the Katyn massacre, which the Polish magazine called "a farce."

A congressional committee headed by Rep. Madden (D-Ind) is inquiring into the slaying of some 10,000 Polish officers in the Katyn Forest near Smolensk, Russia, during World War II. The Russians have accused Nazi soldiers of the slayings. The Germans blame Soviet troops and evidence presented to the committee so far substantiates this view.

The Polish magazine linked its complaint about the anti-Soviet evidence in the hearing to a denunciation of the U.S., which it said was perpetrating Nazi-type propaganda. The blast, tied in with Communist claims of United Nations atrocities in Korea, virtually accused this country of murdering "children and women" there.

Acheson called the article "abusive" and said it went beyond the limits of propriety for an embassy document. He called it propagand which contained untrue charges against the United States.

In addition to rebuking the Polish Embassy and placing other Red diplomats on warning, informants said, the State Department also intends to reduce Polish activity here to about the same level as permitted the U.S. in Poland.

The principle of reciprocity, thus applied, could some day result in virtual elimination of American contacts with Iron Curtain countries.

Here is a country-by-country list of publications by Iron Curtain countries in the U.S. and by America in Red countries, as known to the State Department:

Poland—The Poles will now have no publications in the U.S. except whatever they release through their United Nations delegation.

The American Embassy in Warsaw has no publication.

In Moscow, the American government sells the magazine "America."

Czechoslovakia—The Czechs officially circulate no publications or releases from their embassy here although officials understand that some propaganda materials reach American citizens from Prague through the mail.

The United States distributes nothing in Prague.

Hungary—The diplomatic mission publishes the "Hungarian Bulletin."

The United States in Budapest distributes several hundred copies of its news bulletin.

Romania—The legation here circulates the weekly "Romanian News" but the United States distributes nothing in Bucharest.

In many trees the wood at the center of the trunk is much harder than that near the surface and is called "Heartwood."

Senior Class Play Is First In Contest: Pat Callis Wins

By Ruth Maurine Hoffman

The Senior class play "Sis O' the Ozarks," placed first in the Smith-Cotton senior high school intramural play contest held Friday evening in the Smith-Cotton auditorium. The senior class was awarded an engraved plaque which was accepted by Bill Cooper, class president.

Pat Callis won the loving cup given for the best acting. She played the part of an old mountain woman, Aunt Pliney Coleby, in the senior play. Honorable mention in individual acting was given to Mary Rice, a sophomore, who played the part of Ada Busby, a 20-year-old daughter, not at all awed by a burglar.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Herman Myers, Mrs. Leonard Peabody and Harold Barrick.

The senior play, a hillbilly comedy, was directed by Anne Sagar; Bobbie Ann Dale was stage manager. Cast members were Pat Callis, Ruthanne Zulauf, Mary Lue Guymon, Judy Scotten, Beverly Haerle, David Craig, C. H. Williams and Dannie Brooks. Mrs. Thelma Cook and J. W. Atkins are senior sponsors.

The senior class also placed first in the competition for selling the most play tickets.

This event was sponsored by the Smith-Cotton senior student council. George Deuel, council president, acted as master of ceremonies.

Tourist Increase Predicted

ROME —(AP)—Italy is expecting 1952 to be the greatest tourist year in history — even greater than record-smashing 1951.

First official estimates of 1951 just have been completed. They indicate 5,400,000 tourists came to Italy, spending 240 million dollars.

Even the Holy Year total of 4,800,000, mostly pilgrims, was surpased. So was 1937, the previous high, when there were 5,018,000 visitors.

MoPac Boosters' Distinguished Service Award to L. L. Studer

L. L. Studer, district storekeeper for the Missouri Pacific, was awarded the distinguished service award by the Missouri Pacific Booster Club of Sedalia. Other shop employees who received recognition for their outstanding activities in civic affairs are: W. E. Bruce, Red Cross; Leo Coxon, Boy Scout work, W. A. Spraggins, shop editor, and Henry Sutton, Boy Scout work.

The awards were presented by G. D. Bailey, superintendent of shops, and P. R. Nichols, chief booster of the Sedalia Club.

The awarding of the certificates of achievement was started last year with the Sedalia Club being the first on the Missouri Pacific railroad to recognize employees who give of their time and efforts to promote and participate in activities that make the community a better place in which to live.

To receive the award an employee must pass through a very careful screening process by a committee which is given a year to select the award winners. Through this period of time, every shop employee who is active in civic affairs is carefully considered for activity during that year and a final selection is made and presented to the chief booster who in turn completes the arrangements for the presentation.

The distinguished service award is the highest honor that the Booster Club can bestow to a member and for the year 1951 Mr. Studer was selected to receive the award. He has had a long and varied career in railroad service, starting in 1909 as a store helper in Kansas City. In 1911-12 he was chief stock clerk at Sedalia, in 1913-17 was division storekeeper at Falls City, Neb. From 1918 to 1925 he was division storekeeper at Osawatomie, Kan., and while at Osawatomie was twice elected mayor of the town. In 1926 he was division storekeeper at Kansas City and from 1928 to 1930 was traveling storekeeper at St. Louis.

In 1931 Mr. Studer returned to Sedalia as district storekeeper and has remained in Sedalia in that capacity, except for two years, 1943-45, when he was "loaned" to the U. S. Government to become chief supply officer, U. S. Railway Mission in Old Mexico.

Mr. Studer, aside from his railroad duties, has found time to make many speeches over the railroad and at various civic affairs and is one of the most sought after speakers on the Missouri Pacific. He is past president of the Sedalia Rotary Club, past president of the Missouri Pacific Supervisors Club, past chairman of Committee on Scrap, and past chairman o Committee on Pricing Methods for all of the American Railroads.

L. L. Studer

W. E. Bruce, who was awarded a certificate of achievement for Red Cross work, has been in Red Cross work, first aid, life saving and civil defense work for several years. He is a former scoutmaster for Troop 50 and was chairman o the Booster Club program committee for several years, also being active in activities of the Community Playhouse. He is a sheet metal worker.

Leo Coxon, who was awarded a certificate of achievement for Boy Scout work, is past scoutmaster of Troop 58. At present he is a member of the committee of both the Boy Scouts and the Cub Scouts and has for several years been active in the various unctions o Troop 58 and the Cub Pack. Mr. Coxon is an electrician in the reclaim plant.

W. A. Spraggins, who was awarded a certiicate of achievement for his work as shop editor, takes care of handling of the news items for the Missouri Pacific magazine, handles the distribution of calenders and is active in all phases of community work. Mr. Spraggins is a painter in the reclaim plant.

Henry Sutton, who was awarded the certificate of achievement for Boy Scout work, has been active in this type of work for many years, being past scoutmaster of Missouri Pacific troop 50, present scoutmaster of troop 54, water safety instructor for the Red Cross and active in all phases of boys work. Mr. Sutton is a welder in the reclaim plant.

The next activity sponsored by the Missouri Pacific Boosters Club will be the presentation of a cantata entitled, "The Cross, The Garden and The Resurrection," by the Boosters Choral Club, at Smith-Cotton High School on Tuesday, April 15.

North Side Will Entertain Men From Local Base

On Thursday night, March 27, at 8 p.m. in the Hubbard High School auditorium, a welcome reception will be given for the Sedalia Army Air Base men. This is being sponsored by the citizens of the North Side. The idea for the affair was suggested by Mayor Herb Studer.

A group of citizens met in the office of the principal at Hubbard school to discuss the possibilities of having such an affair. The Rev. J. B. Smith, pastor of Taylor Chapel Methodist Church, was elected chairman of the committee and Prof. J. B. Hylick, principal of Hubbard school, co-chairman.

Plans are underway to have city officials and officials from the Sedalia Army Air Base witness the affair. The chairman of the committee is asking that the ladies wear formals since dancing is planned after the reception. It is hoped that a nice crowd will be on hand to meet and welcome these young men.

Immoral to Send Monkeys on Rocket In Space Journey?

LONDON (AP)—The Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals said today it is immoral to send monkeys on a rocket journey into space.

Assailing recent American rocket tests at White Sands, N. M., using mice and monkeys as passengers, the society asked "where are these experiments leading us?"

"Is not the whole matter parallel to experiments conducted on human beings in Nazi prison camps?"

The society said the use of animals to test offensive weapons for the defense of civilization might be defended by some as just as ethical.

"But," it added, "can anyone claim that to send monkeys on a rocket journey into space even if the animals are anaethetized is a moral thing to do?"

First Graders Give Program at Hubbard

Friday at 9 a.m. the first grade pupils, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Muriel Hicks, presented the assembly program in the Hubbard High School auditorium. The little folk were featured in a short play titled "Calendar on Parade."

Pupils were dressed to represent each month of the year and presented gifts to the Calendar Queen to be used by the boys and girls. The play was enjoyed by everyone. Several parents and friends attended the program.

During the assembly, the Hubbard school band played a selection.

Next Friday, March 28, at 9 a.m., the Hubbard school chapter of the National Honor Society will have an induction ceremony at the assembly program.

GOOD GOVERNMENT BEGINS AT HOME

We are proud to present for your consideration, these outstanding men and woman. They are highly respected citizens who are interested in the welfare of all Sedalia and the progress of this city.

They are home owners, church workers, veterans, and family people who have a sincere desire to help make Sedalia a bigger and better community in which to live!

Republican Candidate for
Chief of Police
GEORGE MANESS

A resident of Sedalia for forty years, Mr. Maness was educated in the local schools, and has had fourteen years experience in police work. At present he has the responsible position of Desk Sergeant and Radio Operator. In 1943, he completed the police officers' training school at the University of Missouri, given by the faculty of that institution and the Missouri State Highway Patrol. By experience and training this candidate is well qualified for this office.

Republican Candidate for Police Magistrate
GLENN LOWER

Glenn is a life-long resident of Sedalia, and as manager of a successful business is interested in promoting good government for the welfare of all Sedalia. He is a veteran of World War II with nineteen months service twelve of them spent on the Island of Okinawa. He is married, has two children and is interested in civic affairs. He owns his home, attended Smith-Cotton high school and will endeavor to give a fair and impartial administration of justice to everyone.

Republican Candidate for City Collector
WILLIAM ROSE

William Rose, "Bill" to his friends, was born and educated in Sedalia, attended Smith-Cotton high school before entering the U.S. Navy. A Korean war veteran, he was recently honorably discharged from the Navy after four years service and makes Sedalia his home. While in the service he studied for and passed the difficult competitive examination for Annapolis Naval Academy. Mr. Rose pledges to the people of Sedalia that he will work with the city administration to promote a progressive, expanding community for the general good of all citizens in Sedalia.

Republican Candidate for City Treasurer
Mrs. Russell H. Robb

A life-long resident of Sedalia, Mrs. Russell H. Robb, known to her friends as Mary, brings to this position an earnest and sincere desire to help promote a prosperous and forword-looking city of Sedalia. She is the widow of Russell H. Robb and the mother of four children. Mrs. Robb was educated in the public schools of Pettis County and is a property owner. She is well qualified for the position she seeks as City Treasurer.

Republican Candidate for City Assessor
A. L. WILSON

"Judge" A. L. Wilson, farmer and stockman, has lived in Sedalia twenty years. In 1942 he was elected Judge of the Eastern District.

He is well qualified to serve as City Assessor working for twelve years with a land bank, knowing property values, and can lend distinction to the work done by the Board of Equalization, of which the City Assessor is a member.

Republican Candidate for School Board
(Long Term)
A. L. HAWKINS

The Republican party proudly presents A. L. Hawkins as the Republican candidate for member of the Board of Education for the long term, to succeed himself. He is well qualified for this position by training and experience, having completed a two-year term in the service of our public schools. Mr. Hawkins is superintendent for two Missouri Insurance companies; a homeowner and has a daughter in Smith-Cotton high school.

Mr. Hawkins' four sons were in service during World War II and two of them as Marines were in the "Death Trap" in Korea.

Republican Candidate for School Board
(Short Term)
HARRY BROUGHER

Harry Brougher, is seeking re-election to succeed himself as a member of the Board of Education, for the short term. Mr. Brougher has long been interested in the problems of the young people of Sedalia and he served as chairman of Teen-Town and also promoted the authorization for the building of two modern swimming pools in Sedalia parks. Due to his experience in working with students, he has three of his own, two at Broadway and one in Smith-Cotton high school, he is well qualified to continue this civic work in the field of education as a member of the Board of Education.

Republican Candidate for Alderman 1st Ward
HARRY NAGEL

Harry Nagel, Republican candidate for Alderman for the First Ward, is a young, active, successful business man, who wishes to devote time and energy to the responsibilities of citizenship. He was born near Hughesville and attended the public schools in that town. Eight years ago he moved to Sedalia, where he operates his own business and is a property owner. Mr. Nagel is married and has two young sons. He is interested in civic affairs and devoted to the idea of working to make this community outstanding in every way.

Republican Candidate for
Alderman 2nd Ward
(Long Term)
LEROY SMETHERS

LeRoy Smethers, Republican candidate for councilman's position from the Second Ward, is a World War II veteran with thirty-four months service in the Army. He has lived in Sedalia for twenty-nine years and is a home-owner and taxpayer. He is employed by the Missouri Pacific Shops. He feels that it is a duty of veterans to take an active part in the service of their country in peacetime as well as in war, and will do everything possible to serve the people of the Second Ward and of Sedalia.

Republican Candidate for
Alderman 2nd Ward
(Short term)
LEONARD WOOLERY

A veteran of World War II, this Republican candidate for the short term, for the Second Ward, spent 129 days as a POW in Europe, with four years service in all. Mr. Woolery, since leaving the Army, has been employed at the Missouri Pacific Shops where he is active in the Booster Club work. He is married and has one son. He believes in sound government for the benefit of all the people in Sedalia, and will work towards that end devoting his time and abilities to achieve that aim.

Republican Candidate for Alderman—3rd Ward
MAURICE SCHILB

Maurice Schilb, Republican candidate from the third ward, represents the largest ward in the city. He is a veteran of World War II, a property owner, married, and has one child. Mr. Schilb was born at Otterville and has worked for the Missouri Pacific railroad sixteen years. He is active in several civic organization and feels that he should take an active part in the civic affairs of his city, and work towards good government, not only for the people of his own ward, but also for all citizens of Sedalia.

Republican Candidate for Alderman 4th Ward
TED RUCKER

Because of Mr. Rucker's outstanding civic record, we are proud to present him as a candidate for alderman of the Fourth Ward. His work with Boy Scouting and church activities is well known in this community. He is a member of the Teen-Town Board as well as the P.T.A., is married and has four children, is a property owner, taxpayer, and has willingly given his time whenever called upon to do so. Being a businessmen and manager of the Manor Bakery, he would be a credit to the city as a councilman. A vote for Mr. Rucker is a stake for the future of Sedalia.

Cuba Ousts 2 Soviets As They Land at Port

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cuba's new strong-man government bounced two Russians back to Mexico last night without letting them leave Havana Airport. The men, Fedor Zarkov and Alex Filitov, were reported to be Soviet diplomatic couriers.

A Mexican Airlines plane took them back to Mexico City.

The incident offered evidence that Cuba's new dictator, Fulgencio Batista, will get tough with Reds. They have made Cuba a center for distributing secret documents from Moscow and Mexico to all Latin America.

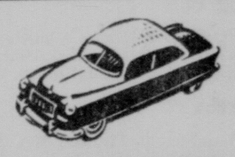

The Russians maintain a full embassy in Havana although Cuba has no diplomatic mission in Moscow. Couriers and large quantities of printed matter have come and gone frequently.

Woman Admits Plan Of Redfield Robbery

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., March 22—(AP)—Mrs. Marie Jeann d'Arc Michaud, 36, said today she had planned and made all arrangements for the $1,500,000 robbery of the home of La Vere Redfield at Reno, Nev.

Mrs. Michaud made her statement to Platt Cline, editor of the Flagstaff Daily Sun, in an interview at the Coconino county jail just before she started back to Reno in custody of Sheriff J. Peery Francis and Mrs. G. F. Neuman, matron of the county jail here.

"I planned the whole job and made all arrangements," Mrs. Michaud told Cline. "I never saw the men who took the safe."

"My parents taught me to be generous and to help needy people," Mrs. Michaud said. "I intended to use the money for good purposes.

"That old miser had a couple of million dollars laying around the house, besides many other millions. I decided this money should be placed in circulation."

She said she had "personal reasons for my desire for revenge" against Redfield, but refused to go into details.

Break Appears More Possible In Steel Fuss

NEW YORK, March 22—(AP)—A possible break in the solid front of the steel companies appeared today with announcement they would negotiate separately with the CIO United Steelworkers on Wage Stabilization Board recommendations.

Meanwhile, in Washington highly-placed officials were reported alarmed that the recommendations might upset the government's anti-inflation program and set prices and wages chasing each other again.

The union accepted the WSB recommendations, including a 17½ cent-an-hour basic pay increase and a union shop, and threatened an industry-wide strike of its 650,000 steelworkers on April 8 unless the companies complied.

The announcement they would negotiate separately, starting Monday, raised the possibility the companies might come to varying decisions.

This could mean that a strike, if called, would apply only to companies which did not come to terms with the union instead of to the steel industry as a whole.

The steel companies acted in concert throughout the lengthy Washington and New York hearings before a WSB panel on the contract dispute. Only yesterday they issued a joint statement announcing the WSB recommendations.

Opinions Vary On How To Stop Big Depression

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Two weeks of congressional digging into federal monetary policy and how best to steer clear of inflation or depression have made it clear the nation's top experts are sharply divided on many broad, basic and vital issues.

A Senate-House subcommittee so far has heard from 19 government officials, private economists and university professors. More than a dozen others will be heard in 10 days to two weeks more of hearings.

All of the witnesses thus far have agreed that monetary policy—the government's program for regulating the supply of money—can be one of the keys to preventing or softening the booms and busts th have pock-marked America's economy in the past.

But beyond that the authorities have split. Rep. Patman (D-Tex), subcommittee chairman, told a reporter today the lawmakers will wait until all views are in and then consider specific recommendations.

There is growing talk of a possible resolution expressing the views of Congress on issues which at times have brought conflict between the government's chief financial agencies, the Treasury and the Federal Reserve System.

One issue is whether the Federal Reserve System should keep its independent position as "the Supreme Court of Finance," as some witnesses called it.

In tightening the money supply to restrain inflation, the Federal Reserve Board tends to make it harder—and more costly—for the government to borrow money. This has brought the board into conflict with the White House and the Treasury in the past, although hte agencies are working harmoniously on the surface right now.

WINDSOR—An estimated crowd of 500 attended the PTA open house and program Thursday night at the Windsor High School auditorium. The meeting opened with group singing led by Loyd Harvey. Mrs. Ben Campbell Jr., president, had charge of the business meeting. Room four was awarded the room attendance award.

The following new officers were elected: president, Mrs. Russell Gardner; vice-president, Harold Denton Hughes; secretary, Mrs. Loyd Harvey; treasurer, Mrs. Arlo Vincent; historian, Mrs. George Zimmerman.

Nancy Windsor announced the following program: junior high boys' glee club, directed by Mrs. Harris; vocal solo, Dale Shepherd; boys' quartet composed of Dale Shepherd, Henry Smart, Bob Maxwell and Walter Acker; tuba solo, Bob Maxwell; French horn quartet, Diana Douglas, Sally Turner, Virginia Ferguson and Annetta Fraley; junior high girls' chorus, Mrs. Harris directing; mass calisthenics representing physical education department, Keith Ellis in charge.

Following the program in the auditorium, the group divided and visited the many exhibits and special features on display in the elementary rooms and various departments in junior and senior high.

Refreshments were served by the mothers of the junior high pupils.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church held its March meeting in the church sanctuary at 2 p.m. Friday. The Rev. Russell Lytle began the study of the book of Acts. The business meeting followed with the president, Mrs. John Carter, presiding.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitworth, Liberty, were weekend visitors of his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whitworth and Delores Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. Will V. Kline, Linwood, Kan., spent Wednesday with Mrs. Kline's sister, Mrs. Dora Kerr and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Phifer and Jane. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson were afternoon callers.

The Weneeda Club of near Windsor met at the home of Mrs. Elza Adair on March 13 with 14 members, one guest and several children present to partake of the nice contributed dinner. The hostess received many attractive and useful gifts.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Elva Shumake. The group sang "Long, Long Ago," followed by the devotional service given by Mrs. Fern Deweese.

Roll call was answered by "My Hobby". Mrs. Ella Farmer gave an interesting talk on "The Origin of St. Patrick's Day". The time was spent working on a quilt which is to be sold when completed.

The next meeting will be on April 10 at the home of Mrs. Ethel Bumpas. Each member is to wear an Easter hat of their own design and making.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Campbell and Maurice spent Saturday in Kansas City. Maurice went to see his doctor for a check up. They were dinner guests of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Lional Dramann and Mr. Dramann, Lenexa, Kan.

Mrs. Ralph McCubbin spent the week-end in Ionia with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Neil.

Rev. and Mrs. Russell Lytle, pastor of the Methodist Church, left following the ening service Sunday for Springfield to visit until Tuesday afternoon with his parents.

Mrs. David Lee Cooper, Wichita Falls, Tex., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Winzenried, for a few days.

Mrs. M. E. Bradley and Miss Emma Ellis, who are spending some time in Excelsior Springs, returned there Sunday after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alveus Bradley several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Coffey were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Campbell at Macks Creek.

Mo-Pac Official Dies

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 22—(AP)—Charles A. Fink, 64, general manager of Missouri Pacific's Southern Division, died of a heart attack at Missouri Pacific hospital here today.

Fink, a former St. Louisian, started railroad work as a telegrapher in 1913. He became Southern Division head for Mo Pac in 1949.

Two Slightly Hurt In East 50 Wreck

Slight injuries were received by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gardner, Kansas City, in an automobile wreck on Highway 50 two miles east of Sedalia on Highway 50 about 6 p.m. Saturday. Two cars which figured in the accident were damaged t an extent of more than $200 each.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner were riding in a 1949 Studebaker sedan driven by Bobby Keith Gardner, 22, of Independence, a brother of Gardner. The other car was a 1947 Ford coach driven by Thomas Edward Thompson of Dubuque, Ia.

According to the report given by the two drivers, they both were headed east on Highway 50. As Thompson started to turn right onto a side road Gardner and the Ford sideswiped. The Studebaker sedan swerved to the right, went off in a road culvert, hit a telephone pole and dropped down into a three-foot ditch. Thompson succeeded in holding his car on the road and went down the shoulder.

With Gardner, other than his brother and wife, were his own wife and their son Glenn, 1½-years-old.

Survey Shows Sad Shortage Of Classroom

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Federal Education Commissioner Earl J. McGrath said today the schoolroom shortage situation "is rapidly approaching a major national catastrophe."

In his annual report to Congress and the President made public today, McGrath estimatde that the nation will need 130,000 additional teachers annually and 600,000 new classrooms by 1957. This is due to the unprecedented birth rate during World War II and postwar years, he said.

Elementary and secondary schools, both public and private, had a record enrollment of 29,828,000 pupils in the 1950-51 school year, McGrath said. This included 26,259,000 in public schools.

He estimated the total enrollment in 1957-58 will reach 37,168,000, with 32,251,000 of the children in public schools.

Merely to take care of this increase of six million in public schools betwene 1950-51 and 1957-58 will require "at least 222,000 more classrooms in the next seven years," McGrath continued. "To supply the backlog of needs for replacements in plant structure and the reorganization of school districts for more effective administration something like 252,000 more will be needed.

"It will further require about 18,000 classrooms a year to care for normal replacements, or 126,000 rooms over seven years.

"This brings the grand total up to about 600,000, which is approximately 50 per cent more usable classrooms than the nation now has."

Based on 1950 construction costs of about $27,000 for an equipped classroom, McGrath said 16 billion dollars would be needed during the next seven years for school construction. And he noted a general price increase of 12 per cent from the outbreak of the Korean War up to June 30, 1951.

One Dog Provides Blood For Another

PURCHASE, N. Y., March 22 (AP) — Here is a case of a dog donating blood — to a young pup.

The donor, was Jackson, a fat, old 10-year Labrador Retriever. Jackson spends most of his time sleeping in the sun at Westchester County Airport, stirring himself only to look for candy and pats on the head from arriving passengers.

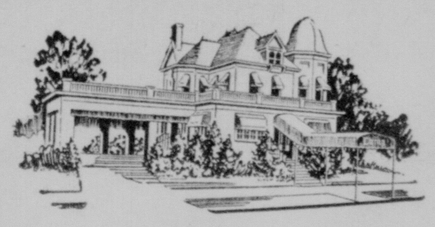

But he was ready when Tex, a half breed chow and collie, tangled with a propeller of a plane warming up. The blade cut Tex's jugular veins.

Tex was taken to the office of Dr. Irene Kraft, a veterinarian. A transfusion was found necessary.

Jackson's owner, Col. Robert W. Gallaway, took him to the office. A pint of blood was extracted from a foreleg radial vein to a bottle, and then transferred to Tex.

Both dogs remained calm.

The life of Tex, owned by Richard A. Ross, of Byram, Conn., was saved at least temporarily, but his condition still was critical.

Good Reason

One of the reasons why we have such a good reputation for offering high quality service is that a service to us is never "just another service." Each time we are called upon to serve, we proceed as though that particular service were the most omportant ever conducted—for to those left behind, it always is the most important.

Barefoot Snead Began Tourney To Fight Palsy

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—A spectator offered 25 bucks if Sam Snead would take off his hat and drive a golf ball. Sam hesitated, so Babe Zaharias removed his famous straw skimmer to expose his expanse of shining scalp. When another fan suggested that Snead take off his shoes and drive — for a price, of course — there was no delay.

Sammy remarked: "Now I feel at home," and belted one far down the middle of the fairway.

That was the beginnin of golf's newest — and gosh - darndest — charity promotion, the Weathervane one-day tournaments for the benefit of cerebral palsy suffers.

The sponsor is Alvin Handmacher a moon-faced bespectacled clothing manufacturer who likes golf in a big way. (His scores prove it). A few years ago Handmacher originated the Weathervane cross-country tournament for women pros. Since it was mainly a publicity dodge, he gave the proceeds of the various tournaments to charities.

Last June, Mrs. Zaharias and Patty Berg finished the cross country tour in a tie and there had to be a playoff. With no commitments for the extra 36-holes, Handmacher remembered that a friend, Harvey Carter, had been asking him to declare United Cerebral Palsy in on the deal and he offered the playoff "take" to that organization.

Glass Family Returns To US From Germany; Visit Relatives Here

Capt. George R. Glass, Mrs. Glass and their two children, Liza, 3, and Cindy, 5, arrived in Sedalia Saturday night for a visit with Mrs. Glass' mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Barnes, 306 West Sixth. They arrived in the United States from Germany Sunday, March 16.

Capt. Glass has just completed a tour of 37 months in Frankfort and Munich Germany. He is in the United States Air Force. Mrs. Glass and their two children joined Capt. Glass in Germany. They were overseas for 28 months.

They left Western Germany at 11 a.m. their aime and arrived in Washington, D. C. at 11:15 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, or flying time of approximately 16 hours. After their arrival in Washington they went to Wilmington, Del., where they visited several days with relatives of Capt. Glass. From there they continued to New York, where Capt. Glass obtained his automobile, which had been shipped from Germany, and they started their trip to Sedalia.

Capt. Glass is being assigned to the Eglin AFB near Pensacola, Fla. After a short visit with Mrs. Barnes, they will continue to Florida.

Buddy Barnes, brother of Mrs. Glass, arrived Saturday night for a week-end visit with his mother and sister.

Margaret Truman Joins The 'I Like Ike' Club

HOLLYWOOD, March 22—(AP)—Margaret Truman joined the "I Like Ike" club here tonight when she participated in Jimmy Durante's television show.

The President's daughter was led blindfolded to a blackboard on which had been drawn a series of horizontal lines and was instructed to add some more marks.

When she had finished, the board was turned on its side to disclose the slogan of Gen. Eisenhower's backers.

"I won't dare go home," Miss Truman exclaimed when her blindfold was removed.

She hastily seized an eraser and cleared the blackboard.

Z. Lyle Brown Will Speak For Rotarians

Z. Lyle Brown, district manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, will have the program at Rotary Monday noon at Bothwell Hotel. His subject will be "This Business of Talking."

Brown, whose district headquarters are in Sedalia, has under his jurisdiction the towns of Armstrong, Boonville, Fayette, Fulton, Glasgow, Higee, Kno Noster, LaMonte, Marshall Mexico Moerly, New Franklin, Sedalia and Slater.

Floyd Priddy is program chairman for the day.

White House Will Display Its New Face

WASHINGTON, March 22—(AP)—The $5,700,000 face-lifting job done on the 150-year-old White House will be unveiled tomorrow to about 1,000 persons.

Members of the White House staff and their families, newspaper women accredited to Mrs. Truman's news conference, and members of Congress and their wives be taken through the completely renovated mansion from basement to attic.

The general public will be permitted its first inspection—of the two lower floors—in about another months.

The ground are now being manicured—new sod, gardens and boxwood—and the President and First Lady will move back in from the Blair House next week-end when President Truman returns from Key West, Fla.

Queen Juliana of the Netherlands and her husband, Prince Bernhard, will be the first distinguished guests to stay overnight in the reopened mansion. They arrive April 2 and will spend three nights there.

All Furniture Installed

Nearly all the furniture and decorations have been installed. Huge moving vans returned loads of furnishings this week from storage place throughout the city and the Blair-Lee house where the Trumans have been living since Nov. 11, 1948.

Three days before that architects and engineers decided the White House was unsafe. An idea of how dangerous was given recently by the President. Taking newsmen through the House last month he recalled that he was taking a bath one day when the tub began to sink through the floor above a room where Mrs. Truman often entertained guests.

Although the Trumans moved more than three years and four months ago, the job of replacing the whole interior, underpinning the exterior walls, and modernizing the heating and lighting systems did not start until a year later, or Dec. 7, 1949.

The final product is a thing of great beauty.

Improvement of the grounds will include a new and extensive Azalea Garden on the slope just north of the East Terrace. The plantings will include 27 of the most recent varieties propagated by the Agriculture Department at Beltsville, Md.

Rose Garden Replanted

The celebrated south grounds rose garden just outside the President's office in the west wing—is being completely replanted with the most modern varieties, including a generous introduction of the popular floribunda.

Needless to say, the Trumans are delighted with their new home, from the shiniest of modern electric kitchens to the tip of the new television aerial. How long they stay is up to the man of the house and the 150,000,000 American people who maintain his home.

There's a 'Slack Season' For Marriages, Too, We Find

Where are the pictures of the brides? The society pages look a bit odd lately but there is a reason—a very good reason. This is a slack season for brides—they just don't as a rule choose their wedding day during the Lenten season.

But, watch out for Easter Sunday—that day is always a popular day to wed and from then on to mid-July, we wonder where we are going to put all the pictures just as we wonder now what we are going to use on our Sunday society page.

With Easter Sunday, the marrying business picks up. It grows and grows during April and May until in June we can hardly keep up with writing the wedding and figuring out how best to use all the pictures. In mid-July they slow down to almost nothing again and through the month of August there are few. There is a reason for that, too. It is bad enough to dress up for any occasion when the perspiration streaks milady's make-up, takes the curl out of her hair if it isn't naturally curly, and wilts her clothes. Just imagine dressing up in white satin with long sleeves or long gloves at a time like that, with the illusion veil soaking up dampness around what she hoped would be curls. There are a few brave little girls who have tried it, who have been able to talk their fathers and their prospective husbands into coats for the formal wedding. Most brides agree this is quite a feat at any time. But they, too, were glad when it was over.

In September the number of marriages increases and the month of October rivals the month of June.

As for a certain day of the year to marry, the one that tops them all is Christmas. Just why a girl would pick out Christmas Day to marry and deny herself an anniversary present is a mystery—but that is just what they do and have done for many, many years.

This is the schedule for marrying and no marrying. Nobody has to follow it but history proves that it has been always so. For weeks we were swamped with silver wedding, golden wedding, 60th wedding anniversaries, even a 75th anniversary—but for the past several weeks they, too, have slowed down, proving that is was ever thus.

If marriages didn't run in cycles, the Democrat-Capital could present a nice society layout at all times. But sometimes we have too many and sometimes we don't have any.

It might be a hint to the girl who would like to be all of it on the society page. She could pick a date in the slack season, get her picture taken in her wedding gown and have it into the newspaper office for the first or second Sunday after her wedding, and she will really shine out as the bride of the week. The quicker she gets her wedding in the better, because the first week it is really news and that is when her friends look for it. The second week it loses some the news value; people have lost a bit of interest. "Well, after that," said one prospective bride "I would consider myself an old married woman."

Annual Banquet Of Sacred Heart Mothers' Club

The Mothers Club of Sacred Heart church held its annual covered dish supper in the school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. Monday, March 17.

Decorations were in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Father A. Magoni was toastmaster for the evening and presented the following program. Two Irish sons by a mixed chorus composed of Mary Helen Williams, Patricia Keating, Jeanie Weimholdt, Annette Moser, Delores Goss, Patricia Ryan, Barbara Franke, Dick Stohr, Paul Mehl, Donald Dick and Harold Bishop, with Regina Boul as accompanist. Patricia Keating also sang two Irish songs with Mrs. Leone Metcalf as accompanist.

Father Magoni thanked the mothers for their co-operation during the past year.

The Rev. James Owen of Bahner was the speaker of the evening, taking for his subject, "Education and Children."

Special guests were the Rev. L. Balster of St. Joseph, Rev. J. T. Nolan, and Father Stavpherr.

Officers of the Mothers Club and their husbands were introduced as follows: Mrs. Paul Weimholdt, president and Mr. Weimholdt; Mrs. Daniel Drew, vice-president and Mr. Drew; Mrs. Ralph Rabourn; and Mrs. Everett Edwards, treasurer and Mr. Edwards.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Roy Lierman, 709 East Fifth, April 24.

Garden Guide

Plant Lilies For Long Bloom

Mrs. William Greenwood
Garden Club 5

A very satisfactory flower for Central Missouri is the lily family. They are hardy, not susceptible to disease and easy to grow.

Regals only ask for a place in the sun, good drainage, some rich earth from your compost heap. Blooms in late June, the stems sometimes four feet high with 18 to 20 blossoms.

Madonnas, the pure white lily with heavy fragrance, bloom in late May. Plant in full sun, they need good soil, well drained, cover bulb two inches with handful of bone meal with pebbles and sand underneath. Turn bulb a little to the side. Floribunda roses are good placed with Madonnas as they protect the plant from too hot sun, but give plenty of air to circulate when in bloom together they are truly beautiful.

The Olympic hybrid lilies are a new strain, propagated in Oregon but may not be practical for our changeable Missouri climate. They resemble the Easter lily in size and leaf. The colors range from creamy yellow to pink to pure white. Very hardy but our hot sun in July and our wet winters may not suit them. The only way to know is to buy just a few bulbs and try them.

The Forfmosanum lily blooms the first part of August and there is a later variety which blooms in the latter part of September. This makes quite a long period of white trumpet lilies in bloom by having planted the different kinds. I have learned to give lilies time to become established before expecting distinctive bloom.

Garden Guide

Grow Plants From Seeds

First of Three Articles on Seed Planting

By Mrs. C. L. Carter
Garden Club 3

Do you enjoy growing your own annuals and perennials from seed? Perhaps you have learned the art by experience.

When one thinks of the development that takes place between seed sowing time and maturity, one realizes how important it is to give the little seed a good start.

Look at a petunia seed. It is hardly as large as a grain of pepper. Pansy and snapdragon seeds certainly do not look as if from them could spring flowers four inches across or spikes two feet high. Successful sowing then depends upon a good beginning. Let us be careful to sow seed with utmost attention to little details which make the difference between success and failure.

If one is buying some of the new introductions that offer 35 seeds 50c, then the seeds are precious and deserve great care in planting.

This does not mean that proper sowing of seed need be considered such a difficult procedure. It isn't. But carelessness in a few fundamentals may make your effort amount to nothing.

Let us bear in mind that to germinate there must be moisture. That is something you cannot do without. And with the moisture, you must have comfortable warmth Also, keeping in mind the size of the little seed, it is evident that we must not cover it with a surface through which it cannot push. So let us prepare soil that is mellow and light in texture, that will retain moisture and permit the feeble little germ to get started without wearing itself out. There are the ordinary earthenware seed or bulb pans and pots, wood flats and specially constructed flats for sowing seeds. A pan or flat that tends to retain moisture and avoid drying out is to be recommended. Sometimes we sow our seeds in two pound wooden cheese boxes. However, pottery breathes, soaks in moisture and does not seem to dry out as quickly as wood flats.

Through a coarse screen or hardware cloth screen put the required quantity of leaf mold (or peat moss), well-rotted manure and sandy loam or even sand. Mix this screened material together, one part of each making a mixture of one-third each. Now fill the bottom third of the seed pan with coarse manure and leaf mold which does not need to go through the screen. Then fill the balance of the pan with the screened mixture mentioned above, firming it lightly.

It is then advisable to immerse the seed pans—now filled with soil—to about half their depth in water for about 20 minutes. Then sprinkle semesan mixed with water over the top (one teaspoonful to a gallon of water), after which place a covering of newspaper over the pans and allow them to stand for about 36 to 48 hours. This disinfects the soil against what is called damping off—that discouraging wilting and drying of the little seedlings—in their stage of growth. The seedlings are safe from damping off only when the true leaves begin to form.

Lookout Club Learns Of Proper Draperies

Nine members and two guests of the Lookout Friendly Neighbors Club met March 20 at the home of Mrs Loren Arnett.

Mrs. C. R. Brown Jr., gave a demonstration on the proper use of curtains and drapes at different types of windows. New fabrics were shown and helpful hints were given. Mrs. J. F. Shaw gave a demonstration on how to make nylon corsages.

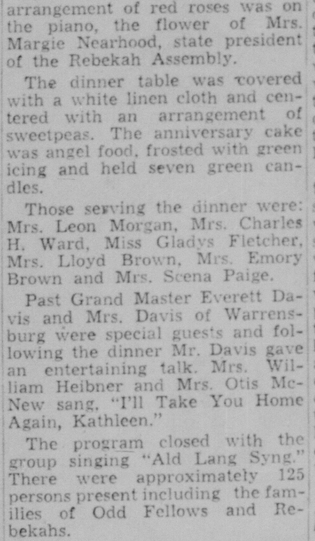

Mrs. Hubert Finley joined the club and Mrs. Elmer DeWitt and Mrs. Walter Scott were guests.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Roy DeWitt, Sedalia. A discussion on sewing machines and their care will be held.

To add that "Cherry Note" to your music room or game room—make valances for the windows of plywood on something that can be painted. Now draw some notes or even copy a portion of a favorite song; staff, lines, notes and all, on the valance. Use a good lettering brush to paint the notes and lines in black.

This is particularly effective if there are several windows in a group and the valance can be 4 or 5 feet long.

Dusty rose or lime green are good background colors for the black notes of music.

Week of Preaching Begins Tonight At First Christian

Dr. H. B. McCormick

The First Christian Church begins a "Week-of-Preaching" program under the direction of Dr. H. B. McCormick, guest leader. Beginning tonight preaching services will be conducted each evening at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. H. B. McCormick has served twelve years: for five years as president and for seven years as executive secretary in charge of promotion. For sixteen years he was pastor at Lakewood, Ohio and he has held other pastorates in Ohio and in Michigan.

Dr. McCormick is a leader in many church enterprises and is prominent in interdenominational missionary organizations and in the World Council of Churches. He is a graduate of Hiram College and of Union Seminary.

Respected for his gracious Christian spirit; referred to by his friends and associates as a "spiritual giant," Dr. McCormick is in demand as a speaker who has a message of Christ for our day.

The Rev. David M. Bryan is pastor of the host church.

Red Cross Fund Drive In County Has Not Ended

Pettis County's Red Cross fund campaign has not ended, and will not until all residents have been contacted and given an opportunity to give. The money is badly needed for work in the county and up to date the campaign has been lagging.

Mrs. James W. Stephens, chairman of the drive in Bowling Green township, had a quota of $87.95 and she and her workers have collected and turned in $102.85 with one report still out.

Workers with her included Mrs. W. J. Harrington, Mrs. McKinley Thomas, Mrs. John Rush, Mrs. H. H. Nutt and Mrs. N. B. Wallace.

The annual election of officers of Post "F" T. P. A. of A. will be held Monday evening, March 24th, at 7:30 p. m. at the Hotel Bothwell. All members are urged to attend.

Leo E. Eickhoff, President.
L. Bahrenburg, Secretary.

Mrs. Eddie Duel New President Of Broadway PTA

The Broadway PTA honored the teachers with a covered dish luncheon Friday, March 21.

The tables were adorned with bouquets of jonquils and pussy willows. Large kites surrounded the centerpiece and the colorful place mats were in keeping with the windy March theme. Favors were gum drop bunnies.

Mrs. Harry Brougher and her committee was in charge of the luncheon.

Following the luncheon the regular business meeting was held. Mrs. William Bessmer gave the devotional. Gen. John McLaughlin showed films on room arrangement and floor coverage.

The third and fourth grades of Miss Nell Logan and Mrs. Alice Brown sang several songs. The trumpet and clarinet selections were rendered by a group of third grade boys, accompanied by Miss Florence Hert.

Room count awards went to Miss Logan's third grade and Miss Hallie Holmesley's sixth grade.

Mrs. Elmer Maune thanked all who helped with the Red Cross.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Eddie Deuel, president; Mrs. Elmo Harlan, vice-president; Mrs. John Kenney, second vice-president; Mrs. William Jackson, secretary; Miss Minnie Murphy, treasurer.

Miss Edith Couey explained the school levy which will be voted upon at the city election.

Jefferson PTA Elects Mrs. Seigel As President

Mrs. Vincent Siegel was elected president of the Jefferson School PTA at the meeting Friday, March 21. Other officers elected were: Mrs. James Hall, vice-president; Mrs. Paul Sparks, second vice-president; Mrs. Herschel Sumners, secretary; Mrs. William Campbell, treasurer, and Mrs. Jess Rabourn, historian.

The following program was presented: songs and poems, grade one; the Quisenberry Community Club presented the play, "Squaring It With the Boss." Brownie Troop No. 69 gave a playlet entitled "The Brownies" and sang several songs. A piano solo, "The King's Review," was played by Mary Ann Wallace.

Help From The 'Brass'

WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIRCRAFT WING, Korea —(AP)— While repairing an airstrip, Lt. Charles Edmundson, Tulia, Texas, needed help in replacing one of the pierced steel planks. Without looking up, he told the nearest man to hold it while he swung a sledge hammer. The man complied.

"Now move it around here," the lieutenant ordered. The order was carried out silently and quickly. Lt. Edmundson removed the piece of bent steel with a few strokes and looked up. Maj. Gen. Christian F. ...hilt, commanding general of the First Marine Aircraft Wing, was striding away, wiping his hands on a handkerchief.

Church Family Supper

Members of the County Line Baptist Church, La Monte, had a contributive supper for their families recently.

During the business session plans were made for the Vacation Bible School and for a revival meeting. Sunday evening a Home mision program entitled, 'Go Over the Lands," was presented.

Record Fund Loaned by VA During 1951

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration reported today that a record $3,614,000,000 was loaned to veterans in GI home loans during 1951. The previous record was $3,286,000,000 in 1947.

However, the VA noted that the 447,373 GI home loans made last year were far less than the record number of 541,922 in 1947 and the 497,596 in 1950.

When the program was stated in 1944 and 1945, only 43,256 loans were made, totalling 192 million dollars. The number jumped to 412,037 totalling $2,302,000,000 in 1946. The lowest year since was 1949, with 276,793 loans totalling $1,424,000,000.

At present GI home loan applications are running at about 25,000 to 30,000 a month, the VA said, compared with an average of more than 60,000 a month during part of 1950.

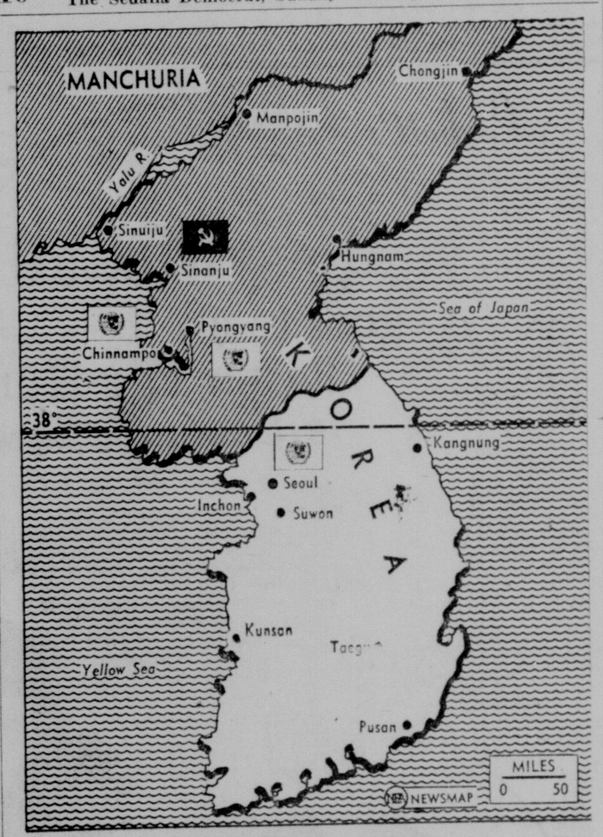

The VA under law can guarantee private lenders against loss up to 60 per cent of each GI home loan, with a maximum guarantee of $7,500.

There is also provision for the VA to make direct government loans to eligible veterans in areas where the VA finds that private mortgage financing for homes at 4 per cent is not available.

Through the end of 1951 the VA had made 16,788 direct home loans amounting to nearly 108 million dollars. Officials said the remainder of the VA's revolving fund has been reserved for loans in process. Funds now available for such loans "are extremely limited," they added.

Under law eligible veterans and veterans' widows who have not remarried have until July 25, 1957, to apply for GI home loans.

One Great Hour Of Sharing Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Churches hope to raise more than six million dollars in offerings tomorrow to provide relief to needy peoples abroad.

Called the "One Great Hour of Sharing," the annual campaign is one of the major sources of support of church foreign mission relief work.

Thousands of churches, of 21 denominations, will hold special services and take collections.

The drive began March 16.

Tornado Oddities

CARLISLE, Ark. (AP)—The Ray Jones family was packed up ready to move when a tornado struck their home here yesterday.

Two sons, Derald, 15, and Doyne, 9, had returned home from school shortly before.

The twister killed both boys.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Officials of Arkansas' largest Red Cross chapter didn't have to be called together when first word of yesterday's tornadoes was received.

They already were in session here—holding a progress meeting in the current drive for funds.

DYERSBURG, Tenn (AP)—A black funnel of wind dipped out of the sky, snatched up the squad car of Tennessee state patrol Sgt. Joe Williamson, and hurled it 300 yards.

Williamson was killed. He had been ordered into the Dyersburg area to help organize rescue work after an earlier twister had raked the section.

JUDSONIA, Ark. (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Glenda Fern Eadie went into town with her parents and two brothers to sell strawberry plants. They saw the storm bearing down on them and ran into a cafe for shelter.

The sturdy brick building was flattened. Glenda's mother, Mrs. W E.. Eadie, and her brother Ed were killed. Her father and brother Bobbie were pulled from the wreckage critically hurt.

But the girl couldn't be found. After five hours of feverish digging in the ruins, rescuers reached Glenda Fern—dead. Her slender body had been crushed by the debris.

Philippine Marines Leave West Province

MANILA (AP)—President Elpidio Quirino ordered Friday the immediate withdrawal of all Philippines Marine forces in Western Negros Province after charges by a suspended governor that he was being "persecuted."

Gov. Rafael Lacson, who faces trial on charges of murdering a political rival, and 27 mayors of the province made the persecution charge Thursday.

The trial of Lacson and 26 co-defendants opened in January but was postponed when Lacson pleaded illness.

The withdrawal of the marines will leave about 500 Army and constabulary men in the area.

Lindsay Howard Calls Wife a Golf Addict

SANTA MONICA, Calif (AP) — Lindsay Howard has countered his wife's charge of intemperance with an allegation she is addicted to golf.

The wealthy turfman testified yesterday in their torrid divorce trial that Judith Barrett Howard started ignoring him when she took up golf. When she started staying away all day, their marital troubles began, he said.

Howard, whom she accused of excessive drinking, declared that the $45,000 house and $100,000 jewelry she received from him were never meant to be gifts—just loans.

Langs Have Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Lang and family, 1816 East Seventh, have as weekend guests, their daughter, Mrs. Johnny Johnson, and Mrs. Lang's sister, Mrs. Lewis Brandt, of Pacific, Mo.

The first steam engines were developed to pump water from mines.

Illustrator's Indian Wife Wants a Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The marriage of illustrator Henry Clive and dancer Acquanetta is on the rocks, he admits.

The Indian actress will file suit for divorce within a week, Clive said yesterday. They were married in 1950. But Clive said he'd "love her always and I only hope she'll change her mind."

War II 'Dud' Bomb Explosion Fatal

MANILA (AP)—Children playing in a ricefield Friday at Mabalacat, near the U.S. air base at Clark Field, found a Japanese World War II "dud" bomb. They tampered with the mechanism and the "dud" exploded, killing two children and injuring eight others, the Philippines News Service reported.

S-C Trackmen Nab Runner-Up Place In Kemper Meet

William Chrisman, Independence, won the Kemper Military Academy Indoor High School Invitational track meet Saturday. But the Smith-Cotton Tigers came in for a close second. Chrisman scored 25 ½ points while the Tigers had a 21 ½ point score.

Seventeen teams were entered in the meet. The scores were William Chrisman, Independence, 25½; S-C, Sedalia, 21½; Hickman, Columbia, 14; Maplewood, 13; Raytown, 12½; Pacific, nine; Boonville, nine; Kemper M. A., seven; Fayette, five; Oak Grove, 3; and Brunswick, 1½. The following teams failed to score: Wentworth M. A. of Lexington, Pilot Grove, Louisiana, Hannibal, Centralia, and Lincoln.

O'Bannon a First

The only first place won by the Tigers was in the 440-yard dash, and that was by Chester O'Bannon who had a time of :57.3. This gave the Tigers five points toward their total.

Floyd Burton who ran had the points which went a long way toward the Tigers gaining second position. He was entered in three events and placed second in both the high hurdles and low hurdles and came in third in the 40-yard dash. His placing gave the Tigers eight points.

Smith-Cotton relay team scored third in the relays while the top spot was won by William Chrisman in 2:22.

Three New Records

Three new records were set in the meet. Gowin, Boonville broke the pole vault with 11' 7/8. Shultz of Sedalia went into a four-way tie for scond place with Meyers of William Chrisman, Cook of Brunswich and Accola of Pacific. The four boys sailed over the bar at 10' 8.

Miles of Maplewood broke the broad jump record winning the event with a 20' 6 jump. Bobby Lane of the Tigers placed fourth.

A new record in the 880-yard run was set by Keaton of Raytown with a time of 2:12.5. Richard Stephens of Sedalia was third.

Jim Bob Shepherd, Sedalia, placed third in the mile run.

The Tigers are entered in the Central College Indoor meet at Fayette nxt week. Practically the same teams which were at Kemper are entered along with several other teams from the west part of the state along with Kansas City teams.

Pat O'Sullivan Is Seeking Third Title

PINEHURST, N. C., March 22—(AP)—Pat O'Sullivan, the smiling slugger from Orange, Conn., and 19-year-old Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., today scored impressive North and South golf tournament semi-final victories.

Personable Pat, seeking a record-equalling third straight title, threw five birdies at Mrs. H. S. Covington of Orangeburg, S. C., and finished even with par to take a 4 and 2 decision. Little Barbara, who has the makings of a feminine Ben Hogan, also finished even with par as she scored a 4 and 3 victory over Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich.

The 18-hole championship match will be played at 12:30 p.m. (CST) tomorrow.

Gars Attract Many Anglers To Arkansas

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fishing for giant gar in the White River and other streams in Arkansas is attracting national attention and new state revenues.

W. M. Apple of Little Rock, president of the Outboard Boating Club of America, says the Arkansas gar weigh up to 300 pounds and put up a good battle.

Apple was here to attend the convention of the National Wildlife Federation which ended last night. He is national director for the district embracing Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri.

Another director, Dr. W .H. Irwin, Zoology professor at Oklahoma A. & M. College, reported he had discovered a way of clearing muddy waters by use of organic material.

"When I first moved to Oklahoma," he said, "I found some lakes and impounded waters so badly discolored people wouldn't bathe in them and there was no plant or aquatic life.

"Other bodies of water that were clear received drainage from barnyards or had vegetation growing in them.

"A study convinced me that the particles in the water, which are tiny bits of rock, would not settle because they had a negative electrical discharge sufficient to resist gravity. My problem was to find matter that had a positive discharge. I decided this must be organic.

"I found that the use of hay, manure or other organic matter would, in decomposing, offset the negative electrical discharge from the other particles, causing them to settle to the bottom."

Such treatment of the water as he advocates, Dr. Irwin said, has resulted in aquatic plant growth which makes further treatment unnecessary.

Reservoirs and other large bodies of water, he said, can be cleared by either draining and planting the bottoms with vegetation, or by planting overflow areas during dry periods.

The federation closed its meeting after adopting resolutions urging state control of wildlife on federal lands. It said state regulations on non-migratory wildlife had been abused in certain federal areas, "particularly on military reservations."

The Bob Tipton Memorial Game At Sacred Heart

The annual basketball game to raise funds for the Bob Tipton Memorial Fund will be played this afternoon at the Sacred Heart High School gym between the Sedalia Moose Club and the Houstonia Legion basketball teams. The purpose of these annual games is to raise money for th Memorial fund which is used to further the education of needy students.

The fund was originally started by the Sedalia Moose and the Central Business College basketball teams who are co-sponsors. Money from the fund is loaned to students desiring to continue their education, especially those who are interested in athletics.

An Outstanding Athlete

Tipton an outsanding athlete himself, especially in basketball played with both of the sponsoring teams. However, the last team he played with was the Moose and his last game was against the Houstonia Legion at Houstonia, the night before he met death accidentally while on a rabbit hunting trip.

These two teams this past season have been outstanding. The Legion team being the runner-up in their Invitational tournament, while the Moose was the consolation winner in that tournament.

The Moose is captained by Bud Michaelis, team mate of Tipton's while they played with the Moose.

CMC Coaches Pick All-League Teams

The basketball coaches of the Central Missouri Conference met Saturday at Boonville, where they elected first and second all conference teams.

The mentors chose the following first team: guard—Joe Kretschmer, Jefferson ity, and Jim Henderson Hannibal; center—Neil Imgerslew, Hannibal; forwards — Bob Musgrave, Columbia, and Foster Tekotte, Columbia.

The second is made up of guards —Joe Stall, Kemper, and Ed. Conrad, Hannibal; center, Wayne Rector, Jefferson City; forwards — Claude Murphy, Smith-Cotton, and Harold Rothwheiler of Hannibal.

Honorable mention went to Bill Cooper, Richard Lanning, Don Homan, all of Smith-Cotton.

'He's A New Man'

Phillies Pin Pennant Hopes On Russ Meyer

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 22 —(AP)—Maybe it's the dreamy Florida gloaming, but at any rate the Philadelphia Phillies are really in the mood for pennant talk.

The boys are keenly aware of an "Oh Yeah?" attiude among many fans back home. Among winning the National League flag in 1950, the Phils faltered to a meriocre fifth place finish last year. Their rooters are still pretty unhappy about it.

All of which leads to the inevitable questions — what happened to the Phillies last year? And why does the club think it has a good chance to come out on top this season?

Manager Eddie Sawyer had a couple of answers today.

In yet another post-mortem on the dismal 1951 showing, Sawyer said "we didn't have a number two pitcher."

Naturally, the thoughts of his listeners sped back to Curt Simmons' brilliant work in 1950. Before that memorable season ended Simmons was in Army uniform, and his baseball services were issed a great deal indeed. They were missed even more last year.

Curt Will Return Soon

Simmons, now with the 28th Infantry Division in Germany, is expected back with the team this summer. But Sawyer is by no means building high hopes on that alone.

And who is the pitcher he thinks may be his number two man of destiny?

None other than Russ Meyer, the mercurical moundsman who has the master touch when he's in top form and unruffled, and is a futile as a whisper in a whirlwind when he's fussed.

"Meyer is the man I'm depending on," Sawyer said. "If he comes up to what I expect, we'll be off and rushing from the beginning of the race."

"Pardon my skepticism" was the reaction of some of those in camp not fully acquainted with all sides of the Meyer personality.

They granted that Russ can win when he is right. But they couldn't forget that Meyer who exploded when something went wrong.

It's an old story about the Meyer tantrums, going back to his days with the Chicago Cubs. Both Meyer and Sawyer feel, however, that the famous temper is at least under control.

Meyer Stays In Shape

Asked if Meyer is in better condition this year than he has been in the last few seasons, Sawyer asserted:

"Meyer is always in good shape. I've never had to worry about that. He's had things preying on his mind in the past that have now been taken care of. I think he'll be okay this year.

"We're counting on Robin Roberts and Meyer to be one-two pitching threat. The other pitchers we're counting upon have done well. Mhee and there they've slipped. That's to be expected. No pitcher has ever been letter perfect each time he went out. But if Robrt and Meyer can fulfill the jobs I have in mind for them, we'll be all right."

Lincoln Splits With Hughesville In Title Honors

The Lincoln Grade School basketball team and the Hughesville Grade School volleyball team won the Championships at the Sacred Heart Grade School Invitational tournamen', the past week. Lincoln defeated Hughesville boys 31-21 while the Hughesville girls defeated the Sacred Heart girls 19-17.

In the boys championship game Rank was high pointer with 11 for Lincoln while Wheeler for Houstonia scored 12 points for high point man of the game.

Barbara Wolfe scored six points for Sacred Heart while Olson and Lowrey scored four points each for high scoring on their team.

In the games for third and fourth place the Lincoln girls won over Houstonia 28-17, McCubbin, Berry and Eichoff were high scorers for Lincoln with seven points each while Scholdelmayer scored four for Houstonia.

In the boys game the Mercy Academy of Marshall defeated Houstonia 32 to 28. Langan was high point man for Mercy with seven points while Kindle, of Houstonia scored 18 points for his team to be high point man of the game.

Hubbard To Start Baseball Practice Monday, March 31

The Hubbard High School Tigers baseball team will begin practice on Monday, March 31, Coach Tuggle announced the past week. However, several potential players were taking a "warm-up" the past week preparing to report to Coach Tuggle for the final tryouts.

Indications there will be a battle for positions on the team this year. Several of the players back from last year are talking of the coming season and boys who have become interested have reported they will be on hand for tryouts.

Coach Tuggle says his only weak position is that of catcher, but he has a prospect in Richard Jackson. Two new prospective pitchers are slated to tryout for first team berths, they being Lonnie "Lanky" Banks and Norman Maupins.

The Hubbard schedule is rather limited this season, but action will be most likely against R. T. Coles of Kansas City; Dalton and Douglas of Columbia.

Gehrmann Runs His Fastest Half-Mile

NEW YORK, March 22—(AP)—Don Gehrmann, the Wisconsin whippet, ran the fastest half-mile in history on a standard 11-lap track tonight when he negotiated the distance in 1:51 at the Olympic carnival in Madison Square Garden.

He finished about 30 yards ahead of young Albin Rauch of Princeton.

Gehrmann's clocking was just one-half second off the American indoor record set by the late John Borican in a Navy relief meet 10 years ago, but that was on a nine-lap saucer, which is considered considerably faster than the 11-lap track.

The clockers also took Gehrmann's time at the 800-meter-mark—the Olympic distance. That was 1:50.1. The American record at that distance is 1:50, also held by Borican.

Eight of the ten opponents on Missouri's 1952 football schedule will use the "T" formation.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

SACRED HEART gained recognition this past basketball season not only in its own PBCAA, but in the State when Bill Hodges gained a berth on the All-Sectional All-Star team and then named on the All-State second team for Class B. High School teams.

It is the first time since Sacred Heart began its high school that the school has gained state honors in athletics. Hodges was a good player for his team at center and one of the best on the rebounds, besides having good leadership which won for him the captaincy of his team.

Sacred Heart should be proud of Hodges as well as honored to have their players picked for state honors.

SEDALIA is in for considerable advertising over the Missouri Semi-Pro baseball tournament which will be held at Liberty Park in July. H. L. "Hank" Williams, the State Commissioner of Semi-Pro baseball has been informed by the Phillips Petroleum Co., they will circularize the state with posters.

Not only will Sedalia's name be carried to the four corners of Missouri but the oil company through an agreement with Williams will distribute 80,000 courtesy tickets to be good at the sessions of the tournament on Monday and Tuesday July 21 and 22.

Commissioner Williams said Saturday he has received numerous requests for information regarding the 1952 State Tournament. From his correspondence and from the managers of teams who are well known in semi-pro baseball it should prove to be one of the best of baseball meets held in Sedalia.

Much work is being done by Williams to build the tournament along the lines of that of the State of Kansas where it has won a great following of fans.

CERTAINLY Coach Robert Karnes of the Smith-Cotton High School track team isn't going to let any cinders rest this week. His trackmen can plan on a good stiff workout preparing for the Central College Indoor Meet this coming weekend. With The Kemper M. A. indoor gathering under their belt, and second place being won by the Tigers, the boys will settle down to work to try and prove a little more and bring back first place.

Karnes wasn't surprised his team won second. In fact he had his eye on the top honors, but said he would be satisfied if his men came in among the top three. Second place was a good started for firsts in other meets, he indicated.

Again I say the boys deserve a pat-on-the-back for doing what they have done in track without track facilities in Sedalia. Thanks to the loan of the M-K-T right-of-way for a practice track work.

Experts Feel Rookie Crop Best In Years

TAMPA, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The 1952 major league baseball season should produce just about the best freshman crop of the last 10 years.

On the basis of expert opinion, the mortality rate of rookies can be estimated at 90 per cent. That means the odds are about 10 to 1 against any first-year man making good the first crack out of the box.

This season, of the 122 rookies with the 16 big league clubs, chances are that from 25 to 35 will be in the regular lineups when opening day rolls around on April 15. That's more than double the normal output.

The most impressive rookies during the first few weeks of the Florida spring training grind have been Andy Carey and Bob Cerv, Yankees; Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell and Herb Gorman, Cardinals; Billy Reed, Bill Klaus, Ed Mathews, Gene Conley, Braves; Joe Nuxhall, Reds; Francisco Campos, Senators; Bill Hoeft, Tigers; John Ridzik, Phillies; John Podres, Dodgers, and Faye Throneberry and Jim Persall, Red Sox.

Candidate for the No. 1 rookie of the Grapefruit League in Florida is Carey, third baseman with the yankees. The St. Mary's College of California alumnus seems a cinch to open the regular season with the world champions.

"He's another Gil McDougald," enghused Frank Lane, general manager of the Chicago White Sox who is down here watching the clubs train.

"Carey can't miss," said Bucky Harris, manager of the Washington Senators. "I wish I had him."

The No. 2 rookie is Mizell, the colorful lefthanded strikeout pitcher from Houston. Tabbed a sure shot to win a starting berth on the Cardinals, Mizell got off to a spectacular start, fanning five of the first nine Braves he faced without yielding a single hit. His fast ball is alive and his curve is explosive.

"You don't have to be an expert to predict that this kid pitcher will go places," observed Manager Tommy Holmes of the Braves.

Carey got out in front in his battle with Jackie Jensen and Mickey Mantle for the regular center-field job with some lusty clouting.

Unless they flop between now and the season's inaugural, Mathews and Reed will be the regular third and second basemen, respectively for the Braves. Mathews, one of the smoothest swinging batters seen in years, has surprised with his excellent fielding.

"Mathews should be one of the great young players in the game in a few years," said Holmes. "He's only 19 but he's a natural hitter. Reed has looked very good. They'll have to beat him for the second base job."

Nuxhall, the 23-year-old southpa who first came up to the Reds back in 1944 as a 15-year-old boy just out of high school, has looked hte best of Cincinnati's young pitchers. He appears to have curbed his wildness, a fault that proved his undoing eight years ago. He's been unscored upon in 14 exhibition innings.

Caterpillars Beat Phillips 66ers In AAU Tourney

DENVER, March 22—(AP)—Howie Williams built up a 14-point first quarter lead with sensational shooting for the Peoria Caterpillars and then took charge of floor play to guide the Illinois club to a surprising win 66-53 over the Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips 66ers in tonight's finals of the National AAU basketball tournament.

The former Purdue University star set the nets afire with 10 points in the opening quarter to send Peoria on its way to its first AAU championship. Phillips, champions seven of the last nine years, were never in the ball game after Williams' opening blast.

Makes Nine Out Of 13

The blonde-haired shotmaker wrilled in nine of the 13 shots he took at the basket. He had 20 points for the night. Williams, Dan Pippin, former University of Missouri ace, and Bob Schmidt, who starred at St. Louis University, sparked with their sizzling shooting and floor play for peoria.

Bob Kurland, the seven-foot center for Phillips, waged a losing battle against the poised caterpillars, cool and confident behind their wide margin. He fouled out with two minutes to go after scoring 14 points.

Iowa State Beats Tulsa In Baseball

TULSA, Okla., March 22—(AP)—Iowa State University's baseball squad avenged a loss yesterday to the University of Tulsa by batting out a 9-2 triumph today.

The Ames team knocked Tulsa hurlers Norris Dorsey from the mound in one and a third innings with five runs and nine hits.

The "Duke" Is Favored For Hambletonian

COLUMBUS, O., (Special) Duke of Lullwater, winter book favorite for the $90,000 Hambletonian Stake and the harness racing sport's biggest money-winning 2-year-old, will race for approximately $300,000 in purse money in 1952. The Duke's stake schedule was forwarded to The United States Trotting Association today by owner Walter T. Candler of Decatur, Ga.

The trotting son of Volomite-Duchess Hanover will open his 1952 campaign June 18th at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, Long Island, and present plans call for him to race through Oct. 2nd at Lexington, Ky. where he will wind up the season in the $70,000 Kentuck Futurity.

Won 14 of 16 Starts

In his freshman form last year, the Duke won 14 of his 16 starts and notched two seconds while banking $59,270. His only defeat was a two-heat setback suffered at the hands of Hit Song at Good Time Park, Goshen, N. S., in August. After that he reeled off ten victories in a row and will be working to extend that skein in 1952.

The brown trotter first takes the word in the $10,000 Old Westbury at Roosevelt and then goes to Goshen, N. Y. for the $10,000 Historic-Dickerson July 2nd. He races in traditional Grand Circuit features at Saratoga, N. Y. July 7th and 14th and then takes a three-week layoff while trainer Johnny Simpson primes him for The Hambletonian to be raced at Goshen's Good Time Park August 6th.

After that the Candler colt joins the Grand Circuit caravan with major stake stops scheduled for Springfield and Du Quoin, Ill., Sedalia, Mo., Indianapolis, Reading, Pa., Deleware, Ohio and Lexington.

An unlikely sweep of all major 3-year-old stakes would shoot the Duke's bankroll up around the $200,000 mark, a good $75,000 more than any harness horse has earned in his first two seasons at the rac s.

Springfield Takes MIAA Indoor Meet: Mules Finish Second

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 22—(AP) — The Southwest Missouri Teachers of Springfield scored 52 points tonight to nose out Warrensburg by a single tally and win the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association Indoor Track and Field meet at the University of Missouri.

Third place went to the Missouri School of Mines with 30. Cape Girardeau scored 20; Kirksville 14 ½ and Maryville 12 ½.

Warrensburg led 48-47 before the relay event but Springfield won this four-man show and Rolla pushed the Mules down to third place to knock them out of a tie for the title.

Sedalia's Bill McCrary, a member of the Mule squad and last year's state class A broad-jump king, placed second in his specialty with a leap of 20 feet, 11½ inches.

Oakland Upsets The Browns 6-3 In The Fifth

OAKLAND, Calif., March 22 — (AP)—Oakland produced a storm of trouble in the fifth inning for southpaw Gene Bearden in his season's debut today as the Oaks defeated the St. Louis Browns 6 to 3.

The Pacific Coast League Club collected five of its six hits in that five-run frame with a former major leaguer, Danny Litwhiler, hitting the crowning blow—a base cleaning double.

After that round the Oaks were handcuffed by Bearden in the sixth and by Earl Harrist who finished for the Browns.

Bearden ran into his first trouble in the second when he walked Spider Jorgensen, who scored on a two-bagger by former Brownie Johnny Bero.

Jayhawks Triumph In NCAA

Lovellette Sets New Scoring Mark In Easy 74-55 Win

KANSAS CITY, March 22—(AP)—All-American Clyde Lovellette hit a record-breaking 44 points tonight in bulldozing the University of Kansas Jayhawks to a 74 to 55 victory over St. Louis University in the NCAA regional playoffs here.

Lovellette broke the record of 32 points set earlier tonight at Raleigh, N. C., by Bob Zawoluk of St. John's.

Lovellette, the nation's best percentage shooter most of the season, brought his total for 27 games to 729 ponnts. The 6-foot, 9-inch 240-pound giant from Terre Haute, Ind., made six of the Jayhawk's first eight points as they trailed fast-breaking Missouri Valley champions 14-8 after the first 10 minutes.

He turned on the heat in the second quarter to get Kansas a 27-27 halftime tie, making 19 of his team's points.

It wasn't much of a contest after Lovellette and his teammates got going early in the third quarter. Kansas built its advantage to 50-44 as the third period turned, but before that it was obvious that the Jayhawks would represent this region in the NCAA finals at Seattle next week.

Lovellette's 44 points were the all-time high for the all-American, who establishhed the Big Seven record of 41 points against Colorado in the last regular season game. He had 42 points in a non-conference game against Southern Methodist early in the season.

Kansas came up with an amazing shooting percentage of 56.5 on 26 of 46 attempts. St. Louis had a commendable 34.4 percentage, 22 of 44.

Lovellette, a senior, scored 16 of his 24 shot for a 66.7 percentage and had 16 rebounds in a great overall performance.

The big man turned feeder for Kansas lay-in goals in the closing minutes after the victory was already clinched. He was given a great ovation as he left the game with 1:39 remaining.

Texas Christian University's Horned Frogs beat an ice-cold New Mexico A. & M. Aggie team 61 to 44 for consolation honors.

A sellout crowd of more than 10,500 jammed Municipal Auditorium for the second straight night of the district playoffs.

It was strictly no contest after Texas Christian sprinted to a 17-9 lead at the quarter. The Southwest Conference champions were in front 25-18 at the half after both teams had come up with a very cool shooting percentage.

New Mexico A. & M. was able to can only five of 32 field shots in the first 20 minutes for a 15.7 percentage. TCU got only 10 down in 35 shots for 28.6 per cent.

The Aggies put on a brief rally in the third quarter to come within four points of a tie at 22-26 but fell behind rapidly as the Texans came to life. TCU was ahead 12 points at the third quarter 43-41, and New Mexico was unable to score a point in the first seven minutes of the last quarter.

By that time the score was 58-33 in favor of the Frogs.

Seven of the 11 TCU players scored five or more points. Harvey Fromme was the big boy with 12. Jim Tackett of New Mexico A. & M., counted 14 points for New Mexico A. & M. The Aggies were eliminated in the second round of the National Intercollegiate (NAIB) tournament last week.

Hambletonian impressario Bill Cane's yearling filly by Hal Dale-On Time has been named Next Time in keeping with the names given earlier foals of the same mating. The first was the sport's leading money-winning pacer, Good Time. After him came the fillies Our Time, My Time and Your Time.

Greyhound, world champion trotter, observes his 20th birthday this year. The gelding is living in retirement on the estate of his owner, Col. E. J. Baker, St. Charles, Ill. Greyhound's sire, Guy Abbey, is still living in Kentucky at 27.

Cage Stars Seem To Be Top Prospects

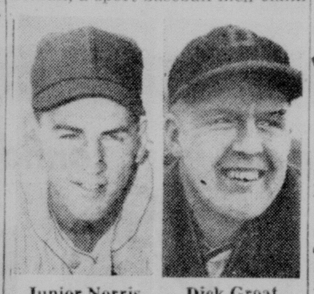

Baseball Looks To Colleges For Players

By JOHN McCALLUM
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — For many years the major leagues have been worrying about the fact that their sources of supply have been drying up.

"The newer generation doesn't play the game the way the older one did," Ty Cobb says.

Junior Norris Dick Groat

is harmful to a ball player, would prove to be their eventual salvation.

College basketball has supplied organized baseball with heaps of raw-boned talent — Lou Boudreau, Frank Baumholtz, Ralph Branca, Gil Hodges and Howie Schultz, to name a few—and now its ready to send along another corps of stick-outs.

The starbrights most sought by the majors this year are Duke's Dick Groat, Dayton's Junior Norris, Duquesne's Dick Ricketts, and Seattle's O'Brien twins, Johnny and Eddie.

Just for good measure, football is tossing in Baylor's Larry Isbell.

Groat The Great, who stole just about every cage honor this season, but the coaching award, is virtually a lead-pipe cinch to crash the big tent some day, Pittsburgh's Bill Meyer admits that the Swissvale, Pa., Slugger would look better than alright in his infield.

"Branch Rickey thinks Groat could move right in and take over," says the Pirate pilot, whose 1952 edition is badly in need of infilders. "From what I've seen, he could do the fielding job, but his hitting remains a question. It may be that big league pitching won't trouble him, however."

Junior Norris looks like a hippo among basketball's giraffes, but for four seasons he has really been throwing his 228 pounds around, proof that fat men can be stars, too.

Going almost unnoticed is the fact that Dayton's Mr. Blimp is also quite some shakes as a catcher. He has been approached by every big league organization but the White Sox.

Indians After Norris

"A year ago," relates Pepper Wilson, Dayton's dream-up, steam-up man, "Cleveland even sent a scout to the campus to talk to Norris in his dormitory."

Mickey McConnell, who was Rickey's aide when the latter was in charge of baseball flesh at Brooklyn, recalls watching Norris work out with the Dodgers at Vero Beach, Fla.

"Despite his bulk, he's quick and agile and has a shot-gun arm,' McConnell says. "We liked his boundless spirit and hustle. And he hits the ball for a country mile. I think he could make the grade."

Out at Duquesne, they rave about Dick Ricketts' amazing all-around play on the basketball court, but baseball appraisers are more vitally interested in his batting average than his field goal averags.

The six-foot-six Negro freshman, you see, pitches and plays first base, reportedly has been offered a fat bonus by Cleveland. No less than a half-dozen major league clubs have been making googoo eyes at him.

It has been said that their size would retard their progress in professional basketball, so Johnny and Eddie O'Brien are looking to the diamond for future glory. They still have another year at Seattle University.

Johnny, who established a new cage scoring record with 1030 points, is an infielder. Brother Eddie plays the outfield. The Yankees have been tossing glances at both.

Football's Larry Isbell is supple, swift, strong of arm and totally devoid of professional experience, but despite the latter club owners are willing to lay it on the line for the Baylor backstop.

Laughing Larry was chosen on the All-America third team in 1951 hit .346 catching every inning for the Waco school.

Deacon Rickey heads the pack scrambling for Isbell's signature.

Bill Rowekamp Key Newcomer For 52 Tigers

COLUMBIA, Mo., (Special) — Watch for the name "Bill Rowekamp" as Missouri's spring football drills get a delayed start here Monday, and mark the ex-Army gridder as a key newcomer in the '52 Tiger blueprints.

With his West Point background, Rowekamp should fit readily into the Mizou lineup somewhere. The 6-ft. 1-inch junior from Marietta, O., lettered one year as a defensive end for the Cadets—but will be given a thorough trial at offensive fullback here.

To Ball-Packing Job

Coach Don Faurot hopes Rowekamp will make the switch smoothly, and chances are he will. Ball-packing won't be any novelty for him, since he once played halfback for the Army plebe team. Chief among Rowekamp's top rivals in th fullback fight will be: A l Andr ewicz, lone returning letterman from St. Louis; Tom Fitzgerald, B-teamer from Coffeyville, Kan and Bob Bauman, a raw-boned freshman from Ste. Genevieve who made the varsity travel squad last fall.

Rowekamp's whirl at fullback could be this spring's most significant experiment, despite the fact that there should be a blazing scrap for both wide-open halfback berths. Loss of Junior Wren and Harold Carter will create the gaps at both halves, but right now Faurot is hot on the trail of a fullback.

Need Powerful Fullback

"Split T taems need that big, powerful fullback as a running and blocking threat," the M. U. gridmaster points out. "Look at Maryland and Oklahoma last year, for instan e. They had fine personeel all the way through, but fullbacks like Modzelewski and McPhail made them extra-tough . . . And before McPhail, the Sooners had Heath. Kansas also ran Split T plays last season, and had an ide l fullback in Laughlin."

Just a few years back—as Faurot well remembers—Mizzou had a top-flight fullback in fiery-tempered Win Carter, who toiled on the '48 and '49 Gator Bowl squads. Though lacking size, chunky Win had all the assets of a Split T fullback—speed, power-drive and blocking finesse. The Mizzou ground game has never been quite the same since he left.

Like Carter, Rowekamp doesn't meet the "real big" specifications, but he's tall enough at 6-ft. 1, and will weigh more than 190 pounds, even on Faurot's lightweight scales. He's solid, tough, dead serious about his football, and exceptionally fast.

Despite Faurot's preference for a two-platoon system, the Ohioan would be a good bet for double duty if he measures up offensively. Early plans are to groom Rowekamp for a defensive halfbacking role.

Another former West Pointer—Don Mackey—will be among the 60-odd Tiger gridmen reporting out Monday. Listed as a halfback, Mackey is of the "scatback" variety. The smallish blond lettered in hockey, but not football at the Point, and makes his home in Malden, Mass.

Wtih his practice schedule set back a week by foul weather and muddy grounds, Faurot announced a change in the date of his final spring game. It has been rescheduled for April 26, he said.

Joliet Takes Fourth Place In Juco Meet

HUTCHINSON, Kas., March 22—(AP)—Goals by Bob Jenkins and Jesse Gutirrez in the last 13 seconds gave Joliet, Ill., a 49-45 victory over the Connors Aggies of Warner, Okla., today in the National Junior College Basketball tournament.

Joliet finished fourth and Connors seventh in the tourney.

In tonight's games Hibbing, Minn., and Wharton, Tex., were matched for the championship, and Hannibal - LaGrange, Hannibal, Mo., faced Branch Agricultural College, Cedar City, Utah, for third and sixth places.

Joliet led 16-14, 28-23 and 37-31 at the quarters, but Connors Aggies rallied to tie the count at 42-all and 45-all. Only 13 second showed on the clock when Jenkins got a tip-in to break the tie. Then Gutirrez stole the ball for a lay-up that clinched the victory.

Garden City, Kas., grabbed fifth place by defeating Wingate, N. C., 66-56, in the first afternoon game.

The Kansans trailed 7-15 at the first quarter and 27-31 at the half but led by sharp-shoting Harold Patterson and Marvin Deckert rallied in the third period.

Garden City first tied the score at 32-all. Thereafter the score was tied four times and the lead exchanged three times before Garden City went ahead 52-47 at the end of the third quarter.

Wingate's ace forward, Darrell F yd, fouled out in the final minute of play after bucketing 16 points. This pushed his season's total to 1,024, a possible all-time Junior ollege High.

Ft. Wood Defends Fifth Army Title

FT. LEONARD Wood, Mo., March22—(AP)—The Hilltoppers of Ft. Leonard Wood today retained their Fifth Army basketball title by defeating Fitzsimmons General Hospital, Denver, 37-36.

The victors, who moved up through the winner's bracket of the double elimination affair will represent the Fifth Army area in the all-Army tournament at Ft. Sam Houston in April.

Only once were the hospital corpsmen ahead. That was just 2½ minutes before the end when center Randall Barron tipped in one from the field to make the score 36 to 35. Eleven seconds later, Ft. Wood's Burdette Thurlby hit with a one-handed shot that won the game.

Barron was high scorer with 14 points.

Richard Evans of the Camp Carson, Colo. team was selected as the most valuable player of the tournament.

They Come And Go In A Hurry

American Association Gives A Manager Little Security

By E. C. JAMIESON
NEA Special Corespondent

COLUMBUS, O. — (NEA) — Baseball men should shy away from a managerial post in the American Association if they're looking for a job with security and a future.

Five of the eight American Association clubs this year being directed by new managers.

The other three pilots are starting only their second season in their present jobs—Charlie Grimm at Milwaukee, Pinky Higgins at Louisville, and George Selkirk at Kansas City.

Grimm had been with the Brewers previously before returning to supplant Bob Coleman in 1951. That was the year that Higgins succeeded Mike Ryba at Louisville and Selkirk stepped into Joe Kuhel's shoes at Kawtown.

When the American Association teams open their 51st season April 16, the new managers will be Johnny Keane at Columbus, Rollie Hemsley at Toledo, Gene Desautels at Indianapolis, Clay Bryant at St. Paul and Chick Genovese at Minneapolis.

Keane, Walker Swap

Keane swapped jobs with Harry Walker, who is now at Rochester, in a St. Louis Cardinal farm shift. Hemsley replaces Jack Tighe at Toledo. Tighe is now in charge at Buffalo. Desautels' predecessor in the Hoosier city was Don Gutteridge, who has found new employment at Colorado Springs.

The St. Paul position was vacated when Clay Hooper decided to transfer operations to Portland. Tommy Heath, who preceded Genovese at Minneapolis, is now at San Francisco.

Oddly enough, the eight American Association pilots — in their playing prime — would have formed the nucleus of a top-flight major league club.

Bryant was an outstanding pitcher with the Chicago Cubs before his arm went bad. Grimm was one of the majors greatest first basemen.

Hemsley and Desautels are rated among the game's better catchers, despite the latter's inability to hit consistently. Selkirk and Genovese were outfielders, Selkirk having succeeded the mighty Babe Ruth in the New York Yankee fly-shagging department. Higgins gained quite a reputation as an infilder.

Keane was unable to make the big league grade as a Cardinal infielder. Now, he's striving to return to the Redbirds in the capacity of manager should Eddie Stanky fail.

An oddity of the American Association training season is that, for the first time, all eight clubs are conditioning in Florida. Columbus and Indianapolis are at Daytona Beach, Kansas City at Lake Wales, Louisville at Deland, Milwaukee at Kissimmee, Minneapolis at Melbourne, St. Paul at Vero Beach and Toledo at Avon Park.

A distinction claimed by the American Association is that the same eight clubs that made up the league when it was organized in 1901 are still engaged in the pennant chase.

This honor almost went out the window recently when Charles, W. V., made a game—but losing—bid for the Toledo franchise.

Art Houtteman Gives Tigers A Much Needed Shot-In-Arm

LAKELAND, Fla., March 21—(AP)—Bolstered by the return of pitcher Art Houtteman, the Detroit Tigers shape up as a first division club in the American League.

Problems at first base and shortstop, plus lack of class in the second line pitchers, probably will leave Red Rolfe's club several steps back on the leaders.

"We ought to be better than last year," said Rolfe. "Getting Houttemar back from the Army should add 12 more victories to our staff. Then we'll have Virgil Trucks for the whole year. He wasn't much help the first half of last season.

"But we've got to hit. Hoot Evers shows signs of coming back after his horrible season. Johnny Groth never looked better and George Kell, usually a slow starter, has been hot."

"A lot depends on Vic Wertz. If he can make it as a first baseman we should be a pretty good ball club."

Rolfe knows full well the gamble he's taking in trying to make over Wertz into a first baseman. The sturdy right fielder, who usually leads the club in homers and runs batted in, never played the bag.

As Charlie Gehringer, Tiger general manager says, "if Zeke Bonura and Rudy York could do it, so can Wertz." So far it looks like he might make it.

Rolfe Eyes Robinson

The Wertz experiment will determine the makeup of the club, unless the Tigers manage a deal for a first baseman. Rolfe would be interested in Chicago's Eddie Robinson but won't give up the players the White Sox want.

If Wertz doesn't make it, Rolfe probably will fall back on Don Kolloway or rookie Ben Taylor, hit .288 in Fort Worth last season.

Gerry Priddy at second and George Kell at third are fixtures with shortstop between Johnny Lipson and Connie Berry. Rolfe may lean toward the lighter hitting Berry because of defensive work if he can play Wertz at first and stuff more power into his outfield.

Evers, trying to shake off his .224 season, is the left fielder with Johnny Groth in center. If Wertz plays first, Cliff Mapes, the ex-Yankee and St. Louis Brown, will split right with Steve Souchock. Pat Mullin will be a fill-in and Russ Sullivan, lefthanded hitter from Toledo where he hit .341 may stay.

Matt Batts, who came over from the Browns in the seven-man deal just before the training season opened, will be the first string catcher. Joe Ginsberg and Bob Swift will be the other receivers.

Newhouser The Big Issue

Hal Newhouser, out since last July with a sore arm, is the big question mark of the pitching staff.

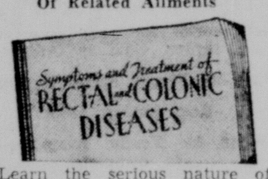

The final story on Newhouser probably won't be known until hot weather comes along.

Houtteman, Trucks (13-8) and Ted Gray (7-14) are the positive starters. Freddie Hutchinson (10-10) will be used in spot jobs and Dizzy Trout (9-14), usually at his best in the spring, probably will take a regular turn. Marlin

M. U. Tigers Open Baseball Season April 4

COLUMBIA, Mo., (Special) — Two grid quarterbacks are pushing strong bids for infield jobs with Coach John "Hi" Simmons baseball squad, as the Tigers move into their final two weeks of tune-up work.

Tony Scardino, freshman from Kansas City's Northeast high, and Bob Schoonmaker, Lebanon sophomore, are the choicest-looking rookies in Simmons' early hook—although the Missouri coach has had little opportunity to survey his candidates outdoors. Through the first six weeks, the baseballers were confined to batting cage work in the fieldhouse for all but two sesisons outside.

Scardino is nifty enough afield, however, to merit Simmons' approving utterances, and is working at shortstop. Schoonmaker, also a shortfielder, has been hitting the ball soundly—and may be shunted to the first-basing vacancy. The two other infield positions currently belong to lettermen — Kent Kurtz,, Columbia, at second, and Ross Goeger, Hartsburg, at third.

Open Against Ft. Wood

Mizzou goes into the 1952 campaign with nine returning lettermen, and five of these holdovers are battery personnel. The Tigers open a 22-game slate against Ft. Leonard Wood here on April 4. They'll swing south for a two-game series with T.C.U. at Ft. Worth, and Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater, before initiating league play against Kansas State on April 18 and 19.

Topping the list of venterans still around is Captain Junior Wren, the loop's No. 1 swatter last year with a .408 average. Wren is now in dry-dock, however, with a fractured right wrist he's been carrying in a cast, except for a week's reprieve, ever since last November. He picked up the injury on the football field, and the plaster won't be removed until March 31—four days before the opening game.

If his arm is not ready then, Simmons can count on only one lettered fly-chaser, Jack Patchett of Chillicothe. Best-looking of the outfield candidates at the moment are: Ralph Monroe, 1951 squadman; Jerry Schoonmaker, Bob's brother; and Vic Swenholt, Kansas City frosh.

Barbour Is Back

Two veteran pitchers, Dick Atkinson of Scammon, Kan., and Don Boenker, St. Louis, are the mound leaders. Backstop lettermen are: Herb Gellman, Maplewood; Car Barbour, Sedalia; and Bob Murrey, Ft. Wood.

Doug Ford Holds Mid-Point Lead At Jacksonville

JACKSONVLILE, Fla., March 22—(AP)—Doug Ford, former amateur star from Harrison, N. Y., drove to the half-way lead in the Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament with a seven-under-par 137 here today.

Ford backed up his first round 69 with a 68 early in the day and the rest of the star-laden field whacked away all day without denting it.

Bob Toski, 25-year-old Northhampton, Mass. professional, and the veteran Jim Turnesa finished at 138, one stroke back of Ford. Toski had a 71 and Turnesa 68 on their second round over the 6,508-yard Hyde Park course.

Two pre-tournament favorites, Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, and Sam Snead, the slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. V., were bracketed with Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas, and Ted Kroll, New Hartford N. Y. at 139.

Jack Burke the Texan who is gunning for his fifth straight PGA tournament victory, made up a little ground with a 69 for a 36-hole total of 141.

The third round is scheduled Sunday and the wind-up of the 72-hole tournament comes Monday.

Northeast Athletic Club Will Meet Wednesday Night

The Northeast Athletic Club will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Jefferson School to elect officers for the coming year. At the same time the group will organize the Sedalia Blues baseball club for 1952.

All members are urged to attend.

One of the best harness racing youngsters in training at Del Mar, California is B. Star by Star Etawah who cost owner Neal Boardman $1.03. Owner Sol Camp offered to give the colt to trainer Boardman who expressed a liking for him but the latter insisted that the transaction be legalized and forked over a dollar plus three cents sales tax.

Bryan's Home Destroyed

SALEM, Ill. (AP)—Fire has destroyed the Southern Illinois birthplace of William Jennings Bryan, the "Great Commoner" and thrice unsuccessful Democratic presidential nominee. The fire was believed to have been started by tramps seeking shelter in the 100-year-old crumbling brick house.

If no fertilizer were used on U. S. farm crops, production would be at least 25 per cent lower.

Mystery of Floating Fur Coat Solved; Had Been Thrown Away

The mystery of the "floating fur coat" has been solved. It had been thrown away by Mrs. James Whitfield, 121 South Grand, after she decided it was useless, according to Sgt. W. S. Barton of the State Highway Patrol who was making the investigation.

The coat was found late Saturday, March 15, floating in the waters of Muddy Creek just south of the bridge on the old blacktop Dresden-Highway 50 road. The coat was fished out of the water by Sgt. Barton and Troopers Gregory and Means, who had received a report through the police department that it had been seen in the water by some boys who were "exploring" the banks of Muddy Creek.

It became more of a mystery when some old stains on the back of the coat had the appearance of blood. No missing person reports in the vicinity caused the officers to wait a couple of days with the hope some information might be received.

After the stains were found on the coat, when it had dried out, it was taken to the State Patrol laboratory in Jefferson City and a news story of its finding was published in the papers. Friends had heard of it being thrown away and soon the information reached Sgt. Barton, who began tracking back on the clues and Mrs. Whitfield was located for her statement.

According to Sgt. Barton, Mrs. Whitfield said she was cleaning house and found the old coat hanging in a closet. She previously had ripped away the lining and planned to make a "shorty" out of it. But the coat was in such condition she decided to give it up and along with some old shoes and papers took it to the country to dispose of it, tossing it on the banks of Muddy on the west side of the creek and south of the bridge. When found it was floating in the creek with two pains of shoes on it, along with a piece of wire.

The mystery gave the officers several confused days until the above information was learned.

Japanese Prince To Co-Ed School

TOKYO (AP)—Crown Prince Akihito, who graduates from high school next week, will break a 2,600-year-old imperial tradition by enrolling in a co-education university April 21.

It will be the first known time in the history of Japan that an heir to the throne has begun his higher education with both commoners and girls for classmates.

Town 'Drafts' Two Army Men: Doctors

BLACKSTONE, Va. (AP) — This Southern Virginia town has "drafted" two Army men for temporary duty.

When Blackstone's only two doctors became ill this week, officials called on nearby Camp Pickett for aid.

Col. A. H. Robinson, post hospital commander, obliged. He assigned Lt. Col. Vincent J. Anato and Lt. George Geyer to temporary duty as Blackstone's physicians.

Report Red Chinese Are In Indochina; Another 'Korea'?

By RUSSELL BRINES AND C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Official disclosure that Chinese Communist forces are in French Indochina raised congressional questions today whether the Chinese are preparing for "another Korea."

But top Pentagon sources and French officials in Paris and Saigon quickly denied that Red fighting forces have crossed the Indochina border. Pentagon sources say some arms supply officers and truck drivers probably have — a far less serious situation.

A report from Saigon, Indochina, said reliable sources estimate 6,000 to 10,000 military advisers and technicians from Red China are making a "slow invasion" of Indochina.

The impression both here and abroad that fighting forces had crossed into Indochina stemmed from testimony by Defense Secretary Lovett before the House Foreign Affairs Committee yesterday, and from a statement by Secretary of State Acheson before the same group Thursday.

Lovett, appearing to testify in favor of President Truman's $7,900,000,000 Foreign Aid Bill, said "some" Chinese forces had been in bloody Indochina "for some time."

In answer to a question by Rep. Mansfield (D-Mont) if that meant "we are faced with the possibility of a buildup as the Chinese did in Korea," Lovett said that is "always possible."

Acheson the day before said, "I believe some Chinese nationals are involved in the fighting in French Indochina." His was the first hint that Chinese Reds may have joined hostilities against the French in this gateway to rich Southeast Asia.

Repercussions were immediate, because it could mean that the border had been crossed by the advance guard of a Communist army 200,000 strong known to be deployed near the Chinese side of the boundary.

First denials came from the Ministry of the Associated States in Saigon. It said: "We have received no information allowing us to suppose that Chinese troops have crossed the border." A similar statement came from Paris.

But congressmen were worried, recalling that the Chinese sifted across the Yalu River border into North Korea during the Allied push in October, 1950, then regrouped and forced the United Nations backward 100 miles.

"The same thing is possible in Indochina," Mansfield told a reporter. "This could be very important, both to the Far East and the defense program in Europe."

Rep. Fulton (R-Penn) said he is interested in pursuing the question adding:

"If the Chinese are there as organized units, it could mean two wars in Asia. In that case, we would be called upon to decide how much assistance to give the French. Secretary Lovett has said Indochina is of great strategic importance, which is the same thing President Roosevelt said when the Japanese went there."

Lovett has testified that the administration plans to increase aid to French Indochina, as part of a requested 61 million dollar appropriation for all Southeast Asia.

Mrs. John Dick New President Mark Twain PTA

Speaking on the subject, "Art as an Aid to Citizenship," at the Mark Twain PTA Friday evening, March 21, Mrs. Clora Johnson said that children create as naturally as they breathe.

"We are not trying to make artists of children," she went on, "merely helping them to create." In her opinion, art offers a way to combat juvenile delinquency because idle hands get into trouble. Art can also help pull the family together when this unit works together creatively. This applies also to the community.

During the business session the nominating chairman, Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, presented the following officers for the coming year, and they were voted on and approved: Mrs. John Dick, president; Mrs. Kennie Miller, first vcie-president; Mrs. Haskell Cook, second vice-president; Mrs. Tom Gray, third vice-president; Mrs. Dolph Chatman, secretary; Mrs. Joy Lamm, treasurer, and Mrs. Alan Tawse, historian.

The devotional was given by Mrs. H. W. Young, who read an Easter Scripture and displayed an Easter poster. Mrs. Addison Taylor, president, expressed thanks for the help in the Red Cross drive and mentioned that over one-third of the total amount of money turned in from the residential area was from Mark Twain district. Attention was brought to the city election on April 1. The room count awards went to the rooms of Mrs. Staley and Mr. Cordry.

Robert Cummings presented the school orchestra in two numbers, entitled "Sunday Afternoon" and "Springtime", which were quite favorably received. There were approximately 35 pieces in the orchestra.

An interesting variety of hobbies of parents, teachers and friends were on display following the program and the large attendance enjoyed seeing oil paintings, dolls, money, knitting, embroidery and many other interesting collections. Mrs. William Ward was program chairman.

Dancers Have Heap 'o Fun Swinging Pardners and Promenading

Two Local Classes Heed Caller's Cry Once Every Week

By Hazel Lang

"Promenade close like a four leaf clover,

"The ladies move left and the gents move over,"

rings out the voice of Charles Gross, caller and instructor of square dance classes being held Friday and Saturday nights at Smith-Cotton high school cafeteria.

Square dancing has finally reached epidemic stages in Sedalia—yep—it took a long time—but it always takes a long time for things to get started here. Pretty conservative people, these Sedalians—they always wait several years for everything, just to see how it turns out in other places—

There have been several mild cases here and there but it didn't amount to much until some fellows—Floyd Priddy, Donie Donath, Damon Hieronymus and Wes Murphy and others—got to talking it over with a few other people and they talked so long and so loud that it seems everybody in town, nearly, has got bitten by the square dance bug, and if you want to meet most of your friends and people you never saw before—go to one of those square dances.

No Vaccine For Fever

If you don't want to get the square dance fever, don't go. As yet, the doctors haven't found a vaccine to stop it, and after all, who would want to stop it.

"Allemande left with the girl behind you,
"Gents star by the right in the center as they go 'round you.

Gross, in neat western attire, sings out.

Out on the floor the sets of eight people each do just what he says. There are smiles all over most of the faces, one or two may have a frown because they are never certain what the caller is saying and they don't know what to do—but for the most part everyone looks like they are having more fun than a kid with a new toy—and they probably are.

There is swing and rhythm, there is grace and beauty, there is good wholesome fun, there is fellowship that knows no stranger in the dancing and swaying back and forth, 'round and 'round in this square dancing craze.

"All join hands and circle to the left.
"Make that great big ring.
"Keep on going all the way back home again.
"Bow to your partner.
"Allemade left your corner baby,
"Now boys don't get rough.
"Swing with your honey, you'll strut your stuff—
"Give 'em a twirl then promenade—
"Laugh and be gay—
"When you're home everybody swing and sway
"There'll be some changes made.
"And now the four little ladies chain the ring,
"Go to that opposite gent
"Chain back and go with the guy who pays the rent.
"Turn 'em once and a half, the gentlemen center,
"Make a right hand star
"Back up in a star.
"Turn that star, break, turn those gals around.
"Swing with the corner girl
"Swing 'em off the ground
"Give 'em a twirl then promenade—
"Go 'round the ring.
"When you're home let's everybody take another swing
"There'll be some changes made.

In Colorful Attire

There are colorful dresses with long, full skirts showing a glimpse of red petticoat beneath, the sleeves are puffed, the necks very low, then suddenly a girl is whirled by her partner—and—can it be—yes—no—yes—pantaloons from the Civil War days. Sure the dances go back there to the age of pantaloons, and even farther.

The square dance of today is more polished, they say, but we wonder if there was not the same polish, the same grace, the same beauty in the square dances of those days—the square dance that somehow lost its luster when it became a feature in the barn dance. We don't know—but there is a certain dignity and charm that lingers about the people of that generation that makes us wonder.

Today's men wear costumes, too, bright plaid shirts and jeans, or handsome western togs with bright neckerchiefs. They wear pointed boots—ridiculous looking things—but the gents declare they are the most comfortable shoes ever—and just the thing for square dancing—

And so—on goes the dance, Charles Gross, whose wife is usually right there, too, calls out:

"Re-sasha go all the way 'round
"And the four gents start in the center of the town
"Turn the opposite lady with the left hand 'round
"Right to the next and pull her by
"Swing the next girl on the fly —"

Mistakes Add to Fun

Sure there are mistakes, everybody gets mixed up—but the mistakes are what makes it fun, says Damon. Never-the-less, they want to learn to dance so there are no mistakes.

The polka—the graceful, polka—is being revived, too, along with other dances of yesterday—and no couple enjoys the dances, whatever they be, more than Donie and Edith Donoth—who in between dances, sway and whirl in some of the old dances that are now so new.

Although the square dance has never died out in some places, its modern popularity is due a great deal to Dr. Lloyd Shaw, of Colorado, who has been teaching square dancing for many years.

There are now 140 couples in the two dancing classes in Sedalia. The first class has just finished its eighth lesson, the second class has finished its fifth and both classes will start now on eight-week classes.

"Allemade left in the Alamo Style
"A right to your own and balance awhile
"Balance in and balance out
"Swing with right hand half about
"Balance out and balance in "Turn forward and balance back
"Swing with the right on the outside track
"Everybody balance around the ring
"Turn with the left and everybody swing—"

It's Warm Entertainment

The dance is over for the evening—groups of dancers, warm from dancing, get their coats and start home—

"I'm tired," sighs a girl.

"Yes," says another—"but it is such a good tired feeling—I love it."

And a third adds: "I haven't had so much fun since I was in school."

Extension Clubs Are Most Active Groups, Aid Pettis Communities

Among the most active organizations in Pettis County are members of the rural women's extension clubs. The Democrat asked recently that the clubs review briefly their community projects for the past year and these summaries are included here:

Aids 4-H Club

The Hughesville Extension Club's membership contains almost all of the mothers of 4-H members and naturally the club's work was toward the 4-H club. The club purchased gate signs for all 4-H members and then at a meeting, several girls gave a food demonstration, thus making them feel the club was really interested in them.

Help Improve Park

The Smithton Club selected community improvement as its special project and as a result they donated money to help improve the park and the entrance-way into town. Members also assisted in planting shrubs in the park.

Interest In 4-H Club

The Smithton Friendly Homemakers Club helped the youth in 4-H Club. Four of the club's members are project leaders. A reception was also given for the members and a club meeting members of the 4-H club gave a demonstration.

Fix Community Hall

The Dresden Homemakers Club fixed up the community hall as their project. The club had an auction and the money cleared was used to buy paint for the outside. The club also paid for the electricity and bought coal for the building. The hall provides a nice place to hold club meetings and community gatherings.

Assists The 4-H'ers

In 1951 the Stokley Extension Club presented to each 4-H club member of the community a 4-H club sign for the members' gates. At the beginning of this year, the club choose a 4-H leader, Mrs. Robert Hall. Since then several new project leaders have taken over new projects, making it possible for an increase in the 4-H club. The extension club is watching the 4-H club with much interest and pride.

Raise Fund For Church

The Georgetown Homemakers furnished leader for the Georgetown 4-H club and bought signs for them. In the community the club held two sale dinners to help provide finances for the community church, and helped the PTA buy silverware.

Furnish 4-H Signs

The Neighborly Neighbors Extension Club has furnished a leader for the local 4-H club. During 1951, it helped the club members obtain their 4-H member signs, which are now proudly on display throughout the neighborhood. In July, the 4-H girls were invited to attend the club meeting, exhibiting their completed sewing project and demonstrating their cooking abilities by preparing the refreshments. Besides the regular report on the Pettis County policy meeting, the club had two representatives attend the 1951 Farm Forum at Columbia, which was reported on after the close of last year's work.

Improve Cemetery

The Ringen Neighbors Extension Club contributed last year toward the improvement of the Lake Creek Methodist Cemetery grounds.

Recognize 4-H Members

The Maplewood Better Homes Club took for its 1951 club project, rural youth work. It has been the outstanding work done in the community of last year. Early in the year each 4-H member was given a small gift, useful in the work of their project. Last year National Rural Life Sunday was observed by a dinner for the 4-H club with an educational film and a talk given by the Rev. David Bryan.

Women club members helped on project tours during spring and summer. Individual prizes and awards were given to 4-H'e'rs at Achievement Day.

A recognization dinner was given in September honoring all past and present 4-H leaders of the Maplewood club. Also, the entertaining of other 4-H clubs at the community hall for square dancing and hayrides.

Contribute to Causes

The Walnut Grove Homemakers Club have contributed to the following projects for health: cancer, heart disease, Red Cross and the blood bank. Health leader, Mrs. L. J. Wolf, taught a Red Cross home nursing course for all the women's clubs of the Dresden community and also in other communities. For several years she has been an active health worker, last year contributing over 500 hours for Red Cross alone.

Give Aid to Needy

The High Point Extension Club distributed food and clothing to needy persons in the community and sent clothing to Korea during the year.

Scientists have found it impossible to give an exact definition of a living organism.

Crossroad Comments

by G. H. S.

Fifty years ago T. Murray Reed, Warrensburg, was a reporter on the old Sedalia Sentinel when Bert Graffis was editor-publisher. Mr. Graffis' death recently prompted Mr. Reed to write some recollections of the days when he worked for Editor Graffis, as follows:

"I worked for Bert Graffis in 1902 as one of the two reporters on the staff. The other one was Buck Agee, a veteran member of your present staff. I thought a few incidents about Bert Graffis might interest you, since Bert and your father, George H. Scruton Sr., were very close friends.

"Bert Graffis was a very dynamic man, who I think, left quite a mark on Sedalia. The family at that time lived in a very pleasant apartment over the office and plant of the Sentinel, which was on Lamine Street, at the northeast corner of the court house square. Mrs. Graffis (Dolly) was a swell girl whose influence helped Bert to make the success he did of his life. His sons, Herb, now a popular columnist on the Chicago Sun-Times, and Joe, now a successful publisher, were hardly more than babies at the time.

"I remember that one night Sedalia's bad man went on a drunken rampage. I remember his name but won't mention it. He went first to the Sedalia Democrat office, grabbed a worker by the ear and marched him up and down. Everyone thought he was armed and let him get away with it. He next went to the Capital office and pulled a similar stunt. By that time someone called Bert Graffis that the man was on the way to the Sentinal office. Now Bert was a very suave, soft-spoken man. When the bad man appeared at the door Bert jumped up and ran forward to him, saying, "Why hello Bill (that wasn't his name). "Where have you been all this time? You haven't visited us in a long time. Come on in and let's have a visit." Well, Bill went in and they had a very cordial conversation.

"At another time George J. Gould, president of the Missouri Pacific, came through on a special train. There had been rumors for months that the Missouri Pacific was going to move its shops from Sedalia, a matter of vital interest to Sedalia. All of us reporters were lined up as the train came in, each trying to guess which car Gould would emerge from. Bert Graffis guessed right. He told Gould he was a newspaper man and Gould grabbed him by the arm and they paced up and down alongside the train. When another reporter would try to edge in Gould would brush him off with, "Can't you see I'm busy?" When the train pulled out, Bert was the only man with the story. He had it exclusively the next day and the news was that the Missouri Pacific had no intention of closing the shops. It was a real scoop.

"One time a foreign born gentleman of fine manners who was said to be a baron made a visit in Sedalia. All the feminine hearts of Sedalia were aflutter and the gals lionized the visitor. The local swains resented the intrusion and swore to get even. They organized a snipe hunt—maybe you've hear of the stunt. Anyhow, the baron fell for it. He wanted to be a good fellow with the boys, too. Well, the lads drove with the baron to an isolated spot in the country. It was arranged to have the baron hold the bag while the others herded the snipes in. Of course, there were no snipes. After waiting in the dark for several hours, the baron wearily walked back to the town. Bert Graffis got wind of the story and had an exclusive headed, "A Simmering Sensation." And that was the end of the baron's social aspirations in Sedalia."

Fooling The Birds

NEW YORK —(AP)—Poultry raisers report that automatic electric time-switches have come into wide use in turning the lights on and off in their laying houses. Lights are kept burning on the shorter days of the year to give the birds a fuller schedule. Otherwise they go to bed and arise in accordance with the daylight hours.

Truman Lauds Palace Guard ToV isiting Masons

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON—The men who pack the most weight with President Truman are his aides and secretaries — the palace guard — supposed to do the routine chores around the White House but who didn't hesitate to advise the President on high policy matters. Thus, a mere appointment secretary, such as Matt Connelly, has become one of the most powerful men in the nation.

For example, it was Connelly who overruled the President's small business advisers and persuaded him to strengthen the multimillion-dollar overseas airways. Connelly also influenced the President against opening up income-tax returns to the public, as is done in Wisconsin. Both were major policy decisions that had nothing to do with Connelly's job of being the President's personal doorkeeper.

Truman showed his affection for the Palace Guard the other day in introducing them to a group of Masons. He kidded and praised them fondly, and made it clear from his attitude that the Palace Guard is still 100 per cent solid with him.

Pointing to Connelly, the President chirped: "I brought him along to the White House to keep the door for me. He does a remarkable job. He can make every one of you Masons believe that he is a Mason, and he can make every Knight of Columbus believe that he is a Knight of Columbus, and he can make every Knight of Pythias believe he is a Knight of Pythias. (Connelly is Catholic.) It doesn't make any difference what sort of organization comes here for entrance, Matt knows all about how to treat them and what to do with them and whether to let them in or not."

Indispensable Men

Skipping to Correspondence Secretary Bill Hassett, the President continued gaily: "The correspondence secretary is an indispensable man around the White House. He decides on what days to celebrate, and what messages we will send to organizations, such as this, to make them feel that the President has a personal interest in them. He is a genius in this work.

"Now, John 'Steelman there—he is the assistant to the President," continued Truman, turning to another of his assistants. "He does a lot of things that the President couldn't get done if he had to do them himself. You see, the President's' day starts at 5:30 in the morning and it ends about 11 o'clock at night. Even then he is not through."

The President also had a kind word for the newcomer on his staff—Press Secretary Joe Short.

"Mr. Short is the press secretary. He is a native of Mississippi, and he obtained his public-relations education on the Baltimore Sun. He is a good press secretary," praised Truman, then added softly: "And he succeeded a wonderful one, Charles G. Ross. I went to school with him. He was one of the real Missouri gang—Charlie was."

Then the President commented that his own job was chiefly public relations.

"The President of the United States is charged with being the most powerful executive in the world. He is the head of the most powerful nation in the world, but the office of the President of the United States is a public-relations office. He spends most of his time talking kindly and giving lectures to people and begging them to do what they ought to do without being begged. Those are the powers of the President."

Kefauver's Angel

Senator Kefauver stumbled on his most generous financial angel, Nathan Straus, in a peculiar manner.

During the heyday of the Roosevelt administration, Straus, a close friend of FDR, was serving as housing administrator and was receiving the usual barrage of brickbats from Congress. One day a Tennessee drawl announced over the phone:

"Mr. Straus, this is Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. I'm up here in Congress and I'd like to have some information about housing and slum clearance. Can you help me out?"

Straus jumped at the chance, went up to Congress where Kefauver was then serving in the House of Representatives, and got acquainted with the young Congressman. Kefauver then became one of the stanchest battlers for public housing. This was before Taft got behind public housing and helped put across the present housing bill.

Straus, now out of the government and operating radio station WMCA in New York, never forgot that help. He also came to have a high regard for Kefauver and spent days up in New Hampshire recently helping run his campaign.

On Monday, one day before the New Hampshire primary, financial-father Straus was worried. He didn't think his protege from Tennessee had a chance to beat Truman.

"What do you think his chances are?" Straus asked newsmen, and then volunteered: "I think he'll get about 40 per cent of the popularity vote."

Newsmen generally agreed. But next day, election day, Straus was more pessimistic.

"I'm afraid he'll only get about 35 per cent of the vote," he said.

"What's sent your estimate down?" asked NBC commentator Leon Pearson. "Yesterday you and Kefauver would get 40 per cent."

"I just don't want the Senator to be too disappointed," Straus replied. "You see, ever since he heard your brother predict he would win on Sunday night, the Senator really believes he's going t win."

Note—Though Kefauver has a few stanch financial friends such as Straus, his campaign headquarters is so short of funds that it couldn't afford to pay rent at the Willard Hotel here and moved to a less expensive hotel. Reason is that Kefauver refuses to take contributions from suspicious sources.

Backstage Diplomacy

British laborites friendly to the U.S.A. are looking around for new leaders to replace ex-Prime Minister Clement Attlee and ex-Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison. They feel a dynamic personality is needed to offset the American-hater, Aneuran Bevan, who is gaining more and more support inside the Labor party . . . an ultra-modern American embassy—the most startling in Europe—will be built in Franco's Spain. Believe it or not, the embassy will be modeled after the New York building of the United Nations, which frowns on Franco . . . General Ridgway has cabled Washington that President Syngman Rhee has definitely decided to step down as President of South Korea. There's so much opposition to Rhee that he realizes he could never be re-elected.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Charles P. Thomas, local landscape gardener and florist, accepted a position as superintendent of the landscaping, evergreen nursery growing, gardening and orchard work at St. Albins Farms, St. Albins, Mo.

Various parts of Pettis and Saline counties experienced high waters due to recent heavy rains and Highway No. 4, near Sweet Springs, was closed due to an overflow of Davis Creek.

Rt. Rev. Sidney C. Patridge, bishop of the western diocese of Missouri for the Episcopal Church, confirmed a class of seven at Calvary Episcopal Church and delivered what was considered a most helpful sermon following the confirmation.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Rev. Alfred O. Kuhn, who has been instructor of the Sedalia High School glee club, was presented with a $10 gold piece by its members. Mr. Kuhn was to leave with his family for Salina, Kan., to assume pastorate of the Christian Church there.

J. W. Higgins, general manager for the Missouri Pacific with headquarters in St. Louis, was in Sedalia on an inspection trip returning from looking over the company's lines in Kansas and Colorado.

Mark A. McGruder, a Sedalia attorney, was elected as grand overseer of the Ancient Order of United Workmen at a meeting held in St. Louis.

Round-The-World Vacation

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP) — There's nothing like taking a long "local leave".

Miss Betsy Arminger, an employee of the American Mutual Security Administration here, decied she wanted to do something different with her 30 days "local leave."

So she boarded a plane here with a round-the-world air ticket in her pocket. She'll stop off in her home city of Los Angeles, Calif., to visit relatives before returning to Saigon and her job.

Solving the Tax Problem

What They Say

KENNETH MIDDLETON (505 West Sixth St.)—Well as usual about all I know is what I read in your paper, and I have just been reading your Tuesday night's edition in which the City Council is again batting around the proposition for furnishing Fire Protection for those who for various reasons go outside the Corporate limits to build.

In 1932 as Chairman of the Fire Department I introduced an Ordinance to the City Council the purpose of which was to confine the activities of the Fire Department to the Corporate Limits of the City.

Prior to this time the Department was answering calls all over Pettis County and early in 1931 the new truck for headquarters was turned over on a gravel road while making a run to a grass fire three miles southeast of the city. In this accident four men were hurt and the total cost to the City was over $7000.00 all of which was paid by the taxpayers within the City Limits.

At the time this ordinance was passed the Council took the attitude that the Fire Department was owned, kept up and paid for solely by the taxpayers within the City Limits and that it should be used for their protection alone. This was as it should be, and the same still holds true today.

It is a known fact that a good many firms go outside the Corporate limits to build their business buildings. In so doing they avoid paying City Taxes, City License and numerous other charges that those within the City have to pay. For them to expect the City to furnish fire protection to me is ridiculous, and should not be given a second thought by the City Council.

As to the exceptions in the Ordinance, the one pertaining to the Country Club was not satisfactory to me at the time of passage but was insisted upon by a citizen, now deceased, and was accepted in order to get a full vote on the measure.

The parts of the ordinance pertaining to the Missouri Pacific Shops, the Missouri State Fair Grounds and the M. K. & T. shops were put in because of Contracts and Committments entered into by prior City Councils.

The County Farm was put in because the Council felt that as the majority of inmates were aged and infirm citizens of Sedalia that the Department should go there in case of Fire, not for what good they might be able to do toward saving property, but for what they could do in the way of rescue work.

It is my understanding that Mayor Studer insisted on this clause when the change was made to Buena Vista.

The Country Club should have never been included in the original Ordinance and Mayor Studer should be commended for removing it.

During the term of office by Mayor Bagby the mayor's answer was a flat and final no to any attempt to change or repeal this measure.

I am sure Mayor Studer feels the same way and he should have the support of the entire council in the matter.

This Ordinance has been on the books now for twenty years. It was a good measure passed by a wise and far thinking Council and the present Council should take a firm stand and see that it is enforced.

As stated above I am the author of this Ordinance and at the time it was passed I thought it was a good sound piece of legislation and I still think so, and while I do not wish to get involved in any controvery over the matter it is my intention to try and enjoin the City from either repealing or qualifying this ordinance.

The Sedalia Fire Department is now as it was twenty years ago the sole property of the taxpayers living within the Corporate limits and should be used for their protection alone.

As for those outside the City limits there are a number of ways to solve their problem.

They can petition the City to take them into the Corporate limits and thereby get the use of the Fire Department.

They can buy a small portable unit and operate it themselves.

They can install an automatic Sprinkler System.

They can work up a deal for a County Fire Department which is badly needed in this County.

But I do not think they should try to have their cake and eat it by going outside the City Limits to avoid the payment of City taxes and License, and then expect the City Fire Department to run out and put out their Fires.

Sedalia Scouter Will Lead Group To Philmont Ranch

Arthur J. Morgan, committeeman of Troop 63, Calvary Episcopal Church, will attend the Philmont Wagon Trails this June with 20 explorers from the Lake of the Ozarks Council, L. E. "Red" Moody announced today.

Mr. Morgan and another adult will act as leaders to the council group for a 24 day wagon trek through a portion of the 127,000 acre ranch owned by the Boy Scouts of America. Portions of the trip will be afoot, with pack burros, and a chuck wagon.

To date, two Sedalia Explorers are registered for the triy, Nelson Painter and Bob Morgan, both of Troop 63. Other young men interested in taking this trip of high adventure to New Mexico are encouraged to contact Mr. Morgan, Jim Langridge, field executive, or an explorer advisor for details.

Fighting Girls Incite Clashes

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP)— About 800 were arrested and fines imposed totaling 150 head of cattle after a series of clashes among Lak Nuer tribesmen of the Upper Nile province in the Sudan. Two men were killed and 30 wounded in the fighting.

The official Sudan Monthly Record, recounting the incident, said the trouble started at a dance when a policeman tried to arrest two girls for fighting.

Jenny Lind Got 'Hollywood' Welcome From Missouri Fans

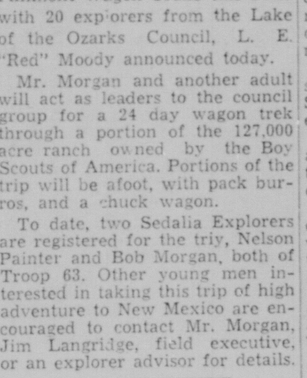

Few events caused as much furor in Missouri in 1851 as the visit to St. Louis of Jenny Lind, the most popular songstress of her day.

At 5:30 the morning of March 17 the steamboat Lexington, carrying "the Swedish Nightingale" and her party, nosed into the St. Louis levee. The arrival was purposely delayed to avoid the large crowds which had been flocking to town for weeks hoping to hear the famous soprano, who was at once hurried into a carriage and taken to the Planter's House.

Later that morning tickets for the first concert were auctioned off, and Jenny Lind's business manager, the great showman P. T. Barnum, sold the first ticket for $150. The rest of the 1000 seats averaged $8 each, but the second night's concert topped that with a $9 average.

Jenny Lind offered her five concerts on alternate days, from Mar. 18 to 26. Thousands of people gathered in the streets outside Wyman's Hall to listen, covering the old courthouse grounds and thronging nearby houses and rooftops. A rainstorm during the third concert failed to send home these "oustiders" who under dripping umbrellas listened and applauded when the soprano sang pieces like "Home, Sweet Home," "The Last Rose of Summer" and "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth."

St. Louis advertisers capitalized on her name by offering "Jenny Lind" parasols, jewelry and flour. Gross receipts of her five concerts were estimated at $40,000, of which she sent $2,000 to Mayor Kennett for charity and relief for distressed immigrants. Immediately after her last concert, Jenny Lind continued her tour to Nashville, Tennesse, leaving her Missouri fans with only the memories of her golden voice.

JENNY LIND won the hearts of Missourians with her concerts here a century ago.

XXX

I MET Dick Harrison that night at the prearranged hour. I slipped away after dinner without offering any explanation to anybody. The Ferret arrived a few minutes after I'd entrenched myself in the Madison House bar.

Beyond an impersonal greeting and an affirmative to my offer of a drink, he said nothing. He simply drew out a sheath of papers and let them do the talking.

I read through them, drawing relieved breaths as I went along.

"You," said The Ferret, "seem to have done some pretty fair thinking. I didn't know you had it in you."

Shamelessly, I basked in his backhanded praise, omitting to remark that what I had done was a lot of guesswork.

"Here," The Ferret tendered still another paper, "is my bill. I left footprints on every sidewalk in New York."

Later I parked the car and went slowly toward the house.

I found Windover ablaze with illumination. It looked precisely what it should have been, a big gracious opulent house geared up to fight off the encroachment of shadows and darkness, with brilliance and gaiety and talk and laughter.

I made myself snap out of it. I hadn't time for fancies and reflections. I was a hired dick with a most distasteful job staring him in the face.

I was figuring to expose a murder, probably send the murderer to the chair.

• • •

LATE that night, I reversed the accustomed procedure. I knocked softly on Cravath's door.

He was sitting in a chair and he wore a brocade dressing-gown that must have cost quite a packet, and slippers. He didn't lose any dignity in that get-up, though it's a costume in which many men look plain silly.

He waited, a surprised look on his face, until I had closed the door. Then he asked, in a quick low voice: "Anything wrong, Orth?"

"N-no," I said hesitantly. "But I'm afraid we've got to have another talk. You'll remember that you okayed an investigation I wanted to make? Well, it's been made. And the results don't make very pleasant telling."

He closed his book, deliberately. "I wouldn't have expected pleasantness. Well, sit down and let's have it."

I drew a straightbacked chair close to him, so that I could keep my voice down. "First," I began, "I might as well say that I'm 99 per cent sure of who killed Ames Warburton and how it was done."

Cravath was not the man to brook preambles. He jerked erect. "Well, who?" he demanded impatiently.

"But there's one per cent of doubt in my mind. So I have to ask you a pretty embarrassing question. You won't like it."

He was staring at me, blue eyes bulging. "Well, ask it, man."

"Okay," I said, and let him have it. "Mr. Cravath, did you fake two attempts on your own life and then kill Ames Warburton because he discovered that you'd taken 50 thousand in bonds from your office safe?"

He came out of his chair like a bull from the toril. "Why—why, y-you . . ." The spluttering syllables fell over themselves and stopped, because Marston Cravath was essentially speechless. But I got my answer.

To tell the truth, I was a little afraid of that answer as it came. I thought that Cravath might take a swing at me.

"Look here," he roared. "Are you crazy? Or is this your idea of a joke?"

I smiled. I had my answer in his outraged face, his quivering lips, his big fists clenching and unclenching. This was, unquestionably, the righteous rage of an honest and guiltless man. I was quite sure Marney Cravath was not the murderer of the Peacock Path.

Cravath's rage mounted. "I will answer you and I will fire you. No, I didn't kill Ames. Any more than I took those bonds."

I managed to stop him by waving both hands furiously.

"I'll apologize right now, Mr. Cravath," I said. "But I had to ask that question. Because, frankly, you could have done it—as well, perhaps even better, than anyone else. I never seriously believed you did."

He calmed down. But his breath continued to come in short little gusts. "All right, Orth. I suppose you were within your rights in suspecting everybody . . . Me pinch bonds from my own company!"

He sat down, seemingly exhausted, but exploded again almost instantly. "Well, who took them? I can't stand any more of this shillyshally."

I spoke very carefully. "Ames Warburton took the bonds himself, of course. And another very ambitious young man, who probably put Ames up to it in the first place, killed Ames. For a simple reason. He decided not to split the proceeds with Ames."

• • •

HE stared at me. "Orth, you're crazy. Bill Neale would never, under any circumstances . . . you're completely off. Neale wasn't even down here when Ames was killed."

"He could have come, though, unbeknownst to anyone except Ames. But, as a matter of fact, he didn't. And I didn't have Neale in mind."

"Then, for . . ." Cravath paused. He was beginning to get it, by indirection. "Are you trying to tell me that—that . . ."

"I am," I looked at him hard. "There is only one other involved."

Cravath got it fully. Once more, he sprang to his feet. "We'll finish this here and now. I'm going to his room and choke the truth out of him." He started for the door.

Odds and Ends By News Staff

A young bride is having a little trouble with her cooking. She cooks enough to get by, but when she tries something specia' she has a little trouble.

One evening recently she had her family over for dinner and she thought she would have an apple pie. She made the crust, put it in the pan and made slits in it. Then she put in the apples and finished the pie. When she went to cut it, it was securely stuck to the pan.

"Grandmother," she said, "don't you put slits in the bottom crust for pies?"

"Only custard pies," said grandmother, "never apple pies."

A few nights later she decided she would have biscuits for breakfast—her new husband likes biscuits. She picked up the biscuit mix, which also makes several other things, and read how to make biscuits.

"One cup of the biscuit mix," she read, "and two cups of water," She told herself that would be easy to remember.

The next morning she read it again. "One cup of biscuit mix, two cups of water," She just wanted to be sure.

So in a bowl she put one cup of biscuit mix and two cups of water and looked at it. It was so thin—it never in the world would make biscuits.

She picked up the package and read the directions again—she had just read it backwards. It should have been two cups of mix and one cup of water.

"And what did you do then?", asked someone.

"Oh," she said airly, "we just had pancakes instead."—H. L.

A young wife thought she had a wonderful idea for a Christmas present for her husb Christmas but she doesn't think so much of it now.

She thought she would buy him a radio so he could have it by his bed and lie in bed to listen to his favorite programs.

She bought it—and he was delighted. He just has the time of his life with his little radio, but his favorite programs come late—they are frequently name bands with a lot of loud music—and she can't sleep because of the programs.

She even had to ask him to turn it off in the midst of one of his best programs the other night. After all, she has to get a little sleep once in awhile.

The next time she buys a gift she is going to look at it from all angles—not just the fact that it is something she thinks he would like to have. She's going to think about what effect it will have on her.—H. L.

The mother of a small daughter is wondering just what to do with her when she attends church services. She doesn't have anyone to leave her with so she as to take her along.

Recently she went to a church to which a school is attached and the youngster slid out of the seat and went to the back of the church.

The mother, feeling there was nothing the youngster could get into in the back of the church, didn't go back after her.

A minute later she came back to her mother carrying a fur cap with a long tail that belonged to one of the school children—she had gotten into the school closet.

Her little face was all smiles with what she had found and she hugged the cap to her.

"Kitty" she said happily—"Kitty—kitty."

At this time of year, with spring fashions so much the talk of the town, a Sedalia woman, Mrs. May M. Varney, sent to the Democrat-Capital the following fashion notes.

"As Easter draws near many people are thinking of and planning a new Easter ensemble.

"The outfit I submit is unique in that first of all it is free; second it is suitable to wear at all times; third, it improves with use and the more it is worn the more becoming it is.

"While not posing as a fashion authority in my own right, I have the authority from the best of all sources—the Holy Bible.

"Hat—the helmet of salvation

"Clothes—the whole armor of God, loins girt about with truth, breast plate of righteousness.

"Shoes—shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace.

"Accessories—sword of the spirit which is the word of God and a shield of faith.

"I wonder how many readers can tell off hand from which book of the Bible the ensemble is taken."

Ballet Star Says Daughter Not be Dancer

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ballerina Moira Shearer drops this unusual comment: She won't raise her child to be a dancer.

The flame-haired English dancer, who is as responsible as any one person for the current ballet boom, is expecting a child in August. Her confinement will mark the first extended vacation she has had from the ballet in 16 years. And therein lies the reason she does not want her child to be a dancer.

"Usually a dancer starts in the ballet at the age of 10, as I did," she remarked. "Of course, I was carrying on my usual schoolwork at that age, but much of the time was spent in learning the ballet. After five years, I started dancing professionally. Then the grind really began.

"A ballet dancer doesn't merely perform before the audience and let it go at that. There are three or four hours of exercises and practice every day, added to time spent on stage. That is utterly necessary, if one is to continue in the peak of performance. You can never let down. If you do, you are soon finished."

Miss Shearer remarked that the average child does not know what he or she is getting into when they start on ballet careers. If they did, they probably would reconsider. Usually it is the mother or father who supplies the drive for a child to get started in ballet, she observed. She added that she doesn't intend to perform that service for her expected offspring.

That is particularly true if her baby is a boy, she remarked.

"Aside from other reasons," she said, "what future is there for a male ballet dancer? He is generally through dancing at 40 or before. Since he has spent most of his life in training for the ballet, he is unsuited for anything else."

Miss Shearer seemed to relish the idea of a few months away from her ballet slippers.

"We have our annual holidays—usually about four weeks," she said. "And there is the time out for torn muscles and other mishaps. Otherwise I have been dancing without let-up since I was 10."

Now 26, Miss Shearer isn't even having the usual easy time of expectant mothers. Last week she finished a ballet number for "Story of Three Loves." She also plays a dramatic role in the film, as she did in "Red Shoes," the movie that helped start the ballet boom. After a fishing trip to British Columbia with her husband, writer Ludovic Kennedy, she'll return to England to await the arrival of their first-born.

The ballerina originally came here to enact a role in Samuel Goldwyn's film about Hans Christian Andersen. The deal blew up, and from all reports, so did Goldwyn. I asked Miss Shearer what happened. Briefly, this is her reply:

"When I signed for the picture a year and a half ago, I was told that it was to be a straight story about Hans Andersen. Then, when I got back to England, I read that Danny Kaye was to play Andersen. The film began to take on an entirely different aspect from what I had been led to expect.

"When I came back here and saw the script, I had more misgivings. I discovered that I was supposed to sing a couple of numbers with Mr. Kaye. Ballet dancers just don't sing, and I tried to explain that to Mr. Goldwyn. But he was firm, and I intended to fulfill the contract. Then came the bombshell (her pregnancy) and the schedules could not be arranged for me to finish the dancing in time."

New Free TB Hospital

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — The Alberta government has just completed one of the world's best-equipped and most luxurious tuberculosis sanatoriums at a cost of three million dollars.

It is the Aberhart Memorial Hospital, built of peach-colored brick on a 16-acre site on the campus of the University of Alberta. It has 300 beds.

The builders spared no pains to make patients comfortable. Doors cannot slam, window blinds cannot flap. Special corridor ceilings prevent reverberation. A 5,000-volume library helps time pass.

The sanatorium has its own postoffice, movie theatre, bakery, butcher shop, handicraft center and canteen. Patients may continue their education by correspondence course.

And it's all free. The sanatorium is named after the late William Aberhart, the first social credit premier of Alberta who initiated province-wide free tuberculosis treatment soon after he came to power in 1935.

Space No Longer a Matter Of Distance, Its Only Money

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)— Space is no longer a matter of distance.

To conquer the gap between us and the moon is now a matter of money, relatively no more expensive for the American nation today than it was for a shopgirl a generation ago to gamble her year's savings on a voyage to Bermuda.

They say they can reach the moon--and they will.

The age of the "rocketeers" has changed all our standards. Nobody any longer really knows what space and time are, except by the old measures of how far the heart you want to be with is from you and how long it takes to reach her.

But space and time are words the scientists use to measure the universe. And they are shrinking that universe like a drying apple.

They are conquering the old barriers of time and space but whether they are getting closer to the heart's desire of the world remains to be seen.

Can I tell you of two personal adventures in time and space to point my meaning?

When I was a boy, the biggest voyage I remember in space was a wintery 45-mile trip with my uncle. It was in a weather-cracked, isin-glassed, model T Ford steering across the vaguely-charted, muddy landscape between Kansas City and Lexington, Mo., my father's birthplace.

Our destination was known, but our route was a gamble. Our vehicle, sturdiest then known, was still a doubt. But it held up. The tires didn't, but they could be blown up again. We didn't think anything on four wheels in those days could go that far across those mud tracks in that temperature.

It wasn't until I saw Korea that I knew God gave men colder days. But I still remember the warm sense of victory when the beaten little car wheeled home.

I remembered those 45 miles of conquered Missouri mud again the other day when I sat in a New York restaurant and heard a 39-year-old man tell seriously how he had made plans to go to the moon.

His name was Wernher Von Braun, the German inventor of the deadly V-2 rocket that almost forced Britain to capitulate in the last world war.

Von Braun is a tall, blond, blue-eyed scientist who now is enlisted on the side of American arms and says he wants to be an American citizen. There is no doubt he is a genius. He has already proved it.

His genius is now devoted to a very simple proposition. He spends his time selling it with the same simple ardor of a young salesman peddling a new vacuum cleaner.

He has figured out a way he can shoot up a rocket some 1,075 miles or so beyond the reach of gravity. He has figured that if he can shoot up 12 of them he can build a doughtnut-shaped watch-tower holding 36 men who can spy down as they circle the earth every two hours and use their platform through radar to control the world.

"An enemy just couldn't hide any more," he said. "We could call down fire on him wherever don't build this space station, the sooner or later."

Von Braun says he can safely get men up and back from this whirling space station, even rocket them on to an exploratory trip to the moon and return them whole.

"It would take only four billion dollars and 10 years to do," he said. "That is only a fraction of Russians will sooner or later.

Listening to him I had no feeling of doubt that his project could be done. But I had no sense of victory over space. I only felt depressed.

If Von Braun is voted the money he wants and bold men carry out his plans successfully, they will have negated the obstacle of the sky.

But when, 30 years ago, I made a 45-mile trip into the unknown to visit my father's birthplace there was someone we had come far and risked much discomfort to see, waiting at journey's end.

Hackler of Sedalia Takes Part in Big Pacific Maneuvers

Aloft with other crewmen aboard the aircraft carrier escort USS Rendova, Martin H. Hackler, teleman seaman, U. S. N., 2114 East Seventh, Sedalia, recently participated in the largest Pacific Fleet training exercises held since the Korean outbreak.

The exercises, called "Lex Baker One," took place off the coast of Southern California. Over 70 ships and 15,000 men of the Navy and the newly activated Third Marines participated.

Reality was added to the mock war games by assuming that Southern California and several islands off the shore had been captured by an enemy "aggressor." The Navy's problem was the retaking of the enemy held islands through amphibious assaults.

Ships of all types were used in the exercises including submarines and aircraft carriers.

"Aggressor" submarines and plane made repeated 'attacks' in harrassing the task force, adding even more reality to the operation.

Another 'First'

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet scientists, it is announced here, have created a new branch of technology—"ultra sound defectoscopia."

This means the determining of the quality of various manufactured goods by the aid of ultra-sound.

"Ultra-sound defectoscopia," said Evening Moscow, "is based on the property of ultra-sound to penetrate to great depths in metal and other hard bodies and to reflect back from them, 'signalling' the presence of defects which may exist in them."

Water passes easily into o living cell, but chemical substances in the cell body, although dissolved in water, pass out of the cell only with great difficulty.

Hoffman Has Ambitions For Cabinet?

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The emergence of Paul G. Hoffman as one of the strong men of the Eisenhower presidential campaign stirred speculation today about his political future.

Hoffman apparently has taken over the job of trying to convince business leaders of the country that they ought to get behind the drive to make Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the GOP candidate.

In this non-titled capacity, Hoffman can be expected to represent the element of Eisenhower's supporters outside government, as contrasted with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Sen. Lodge of Massachusetts, Sen. Duff of Pennsylvania and Sen. Carlson of Kansas, and other office holders.

Hoffman's nominal boss is W. Walter Williams of Seattle, Wash., just named to replace Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr. as chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.

Williams, whose name isn't as well advertised nationally as Hoffman's, already is reported in trouble in his home state because of his apparent intention to hang on to his job as Washington state GOP chairman while campaigning actively for Eisenhower.

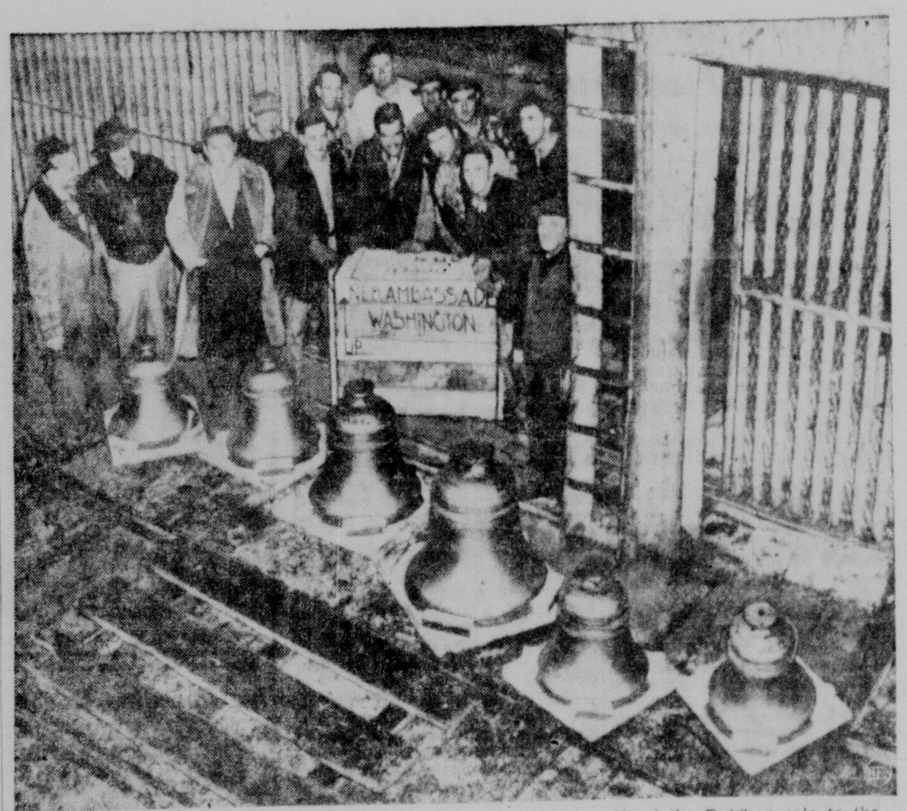

Hoffman, former economic cooperation (ECA) administrator, has had an opportunity to establish a personal relationship with Eisenhower not shared by such supporters as Duff, Lodge and some of the others.

It was regarded as significant here that when the Eisenhower camp wanted a personal plea made to the general to speed up his return to the United States, Hoffman was the man who carried the message to the general's Paris headquarters.

From this and other incidents, some of Eisenhower's supporters—looking into a distant and nebulous future—have concluded that if the general were elected President, Hoffman would be likely to land in the Cabinet.

They point to Hoffman's acquaintance with world affairs through ECA as an indication he might well become the general's choice for secretary of state—a job that most of them previously had speculated might go to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in the event of a November victory.

Hoffman, now head of the Ford Foundation, has the added recommendation for this role in that he was the personal choice of the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg for ECA chief. Until his death, Vandenberg was the party's spokesman for the kind of foreign policy to which Eisenhower apparently subscribes.

CARILLON OF FRIENDSHIP—Full-scale model of a carillon, gift of the Dutch people to the people of the United States, arrives in Baltimore. Queen Juliana of The Netherlands will present it to President Truman during her state visit to the United States in April. Upon completion, the true carillon will replace the model in a Washington park.

Pile Is Graduated From Submarine School

Recently graduated from the basic enlisted course of the Naval Submarine School, New London, Conn., and assigned to duty with Submarine Squadron Six based at Norfolk, Va., was Bernard E. Pile, radarman, first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry W. Pile, 208 South Quincy, Sedalia.

The school prepares students for duty aboard submarines by giving them a basic knowledge of the equipment, principles, and skills involved in operating the underwater craft.

During the 8-week course, the embryo submariners study compartmentation, escape procedures, radiological defense, compressed air and trim and drain systems.

Adjustment Period Needed

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A pretty exchange student from the free University of Berlin and now a doctoral candidate at Carnegie Tech says German youths have not had time to adjust themselves from war to peace and then to re-armament.

Blue-eyed Irene V. Reitzenstein thinks some of the confusion in the minds of German youth could be alleviated if the university could afford more cultural programs. This would give the students the spiritual strength needed.

Many of the students, she says, are refugees from the Soviet zone of Berlin where no Western papers are permitted and the radio stations are policed. Most refugees and west Germans can't afford to go to school.

Extra Service

OSHKOSH, Neb. (AP) — Lots of service and a big smile is gospel with John R. Grieve Jr., Oshkosh filling-station operator.

When a couple drove in recently he polished their windshield, checked the tires and radiator, then asked, "Will that be all?" The customer turned to his wife.

"I want my girdle vulcanized," she told Grieve. He did the job.

The term "plumbing" originally meant "working in lead", but has come to embrace the use of other metals for service pipes in buildings.

Record Traffic Toll

BONN, Germany (AP)— West Germany's highway traffic toll hit a record high during the third quarter of 1951 with 2,313 persons killed and 67,045 injured, the federal statistical office announced recently. There were 93,197 accidents, representing a jump of 25 per cent over the same 1950 period.

West Germany has a population of about 48 million. It also has a record number of cars on the road. Motor vehicle registrations at the end of 1951 exceeded 2.6 million.

Under prodding of the Allied authorities, German police are campaigning to reduce the toll.

What a Man Learns When He Opens His Mail and Reads

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a man learns from reading his mail:

There is an old popular belief that major wars break out about every 22 years . . . The foundation for the study of cycles, after checking wars from 559 B. C., says there's something to it . . . The wars also seem to come along about the same time as certain big solar disturbances . . . So to end wars all you gotta do is cure the sun of its spots . . . Boy, hand me that celestial ointment!. . .

Add Leap Year news: It is illegal to marry your husband's grandfather in Georgia . . . But if you want to wed your first cousin in West Virginia it's okay—if he's over 50 . . . You have to wait until you're a dowdy old maid of 16 before you can go to the altar in the hills of Kentucky . . . In conservative Massachusetts, however, you can be a bride at the blooming age of 12. . .

A name in the news recently was Mr. Alan Garfinkel, who hand ties knots sealing 50,000 pieces of bologna a week, or 500 an hour . . .

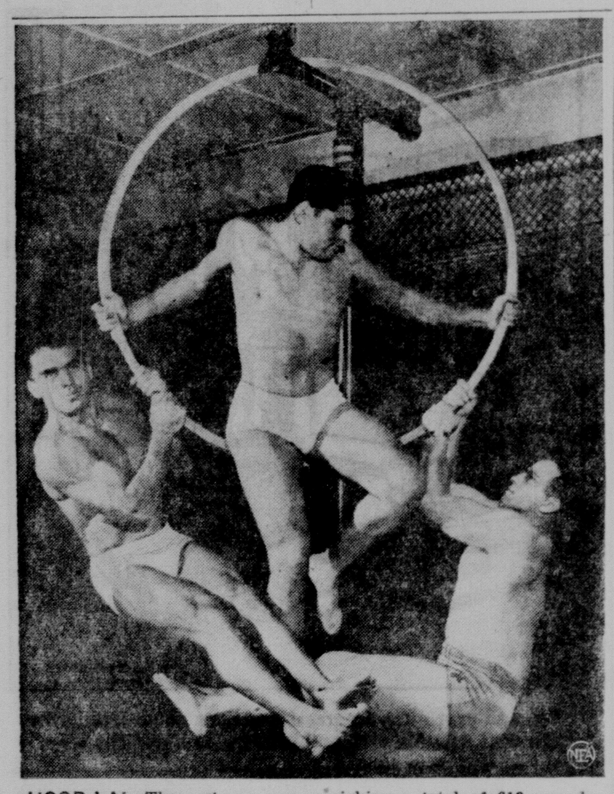

Yes, it is real knotting . . . It takes a two-year apprenticeship to learn this skilled job right . . . There are only 25 professional bologna knotters in America. . . And they all hate the word arthritis. . .

Greenwich Village today is a tourist lure and a refuge for starry-eyed young actresses, artists and Wall Street stenographers. . . But in 1822 it was so remote from downtown Manhattan that society people fled there to escape a yellow fever epidemic. Did you ever hear of the noble lady who kept a corpse in her coach?. . . She was Mademoiselle de Coigny, an 18th century French intellectual. . .Why the corpse?. . . She was studying anatomy and liked to keep a subject handy.

Did you know that 2,000 aliens are now serving in the U. S. Army? That it is more important for you to be able to read well within arm's length than it is to have "twenty-twenty" vision, which only means the ability to read an eyesight chart at 20 feet?. . .That the first automobile ever stolen in America was snitched in St. Louis in 1905? . . .That cars are aging just like people—because in 1950 half the autos on the road were 10 years old or older?. . .

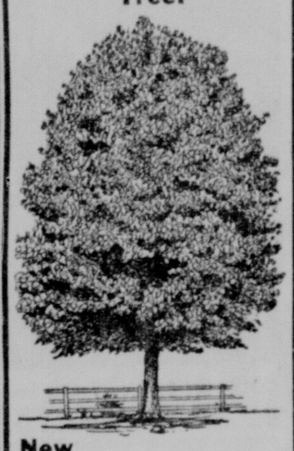

Speaking of the auto industry, there were 23 million passenger cars in the United States in 1930. . . 27,500,000 in 1940. . . 40 million in 1950 and by 1960 there will be some 52 million. . .

The traffic prospect this raises is going to drive an awful lot of people back to the pogo stick.

HOOP-LA!—Three strong men, weighing a total of 618 pounds, fail to make any impression on this plastic hoop, one fourth the weight of a similiar hoop of steel, and having more than double the strength. Developed by General Electric engineers at Schenectady, N. Y., it is impregnated with a special resin. The hoop can be fabricated more quickly than steel, and may be used as an alternate for a steel ring in certain industrial applications.

Wrong Party

SINGAPORE (AP)— During the recent city elections in this Crown Colony, a Chinese couple found themselves at a ploling booth in the wrong section of town.

Politely, they were assisted into a car belonging to one of the Labor Party candidates and set out for the section where they were supposed to cast their ballot. On the way, however, they mentioned to the driver and other Labor supporters in the car that they intended to vote the Progressive ticket.

The car stopped. Politely they were helped out.

Tipton Band In New Uniforms Presents Two Fine Concerts

By Mrs. Thomas W. Miller

TIPTON — The Tipton High School band received a rating of II-, and the girls' glee club a rating of III at the Tri-County Music Festival held Saturday in California.

Forty new band uniforms have been received and are being worn by the band members who gave a Tipton street parade last Friday afternoon. The band gave a concert before the Tipton school assembly Thursday afternoon and on Friday night a concert for the public was presented at the Tipton school auditorium.

Mrs. Mary Louise Lightfoot is director of high school music.

Gene Goodman drove from Columbia Tuesday for Mrs. Goodman and their five-months' old daughter Jennifer Ross, who had been here for a week visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hardy.

Mrs. J. E. McVean underwent a thyroid operation Tuesday at St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City. She had entered the hospital Mar. 2. She is expected to leave the hospital soon and plans to remain with relatives in Kansas City awhile i returning home.

Richard F. (Dickie) Schmidt, owner of the Tipton Hatchery, is erecting a broiler room in one of the Stanley Ferguson buildings where Mr. Schmidt has other buildings in use for his hatchery along with the building just west and adjoining the Miller Packing plant. The new broiler room, which will house 2,000 chicks, is 30x30 feet. Chicks will also be raised to broiler ize by the Tipton Hatchery at the farm of the Leo J. Knipp near Syracuse. Mr. Schmidt's father-in-law, Henry Koerkemeir, and Fred Schmidt are assisting in the remodeling of the buildings to raise the broilers.

The Rev. M. A. Thomas, pastor of the Tipton and Fortuna Methodist Churches, is in an evangelistic mission at Lock Springs, Mo., this week. While he is away, Mrs. Thomas and children Margaret and Timothy are visiting her mother Mrs. Myrtle Burner in Kansas City. At the Sunday school and church services at the Methodist church in Tipton the Service Class of the church will preside this Sunday March 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenley Fulks and children have moved to what is known as Griffin place, southwest of Latham. The family previously occupied the Mrs. Estill Lawson farm, southeast of Tipton, until a fire destroyed the residence on the farm.

Not The First Time

HOQUIAM, Wash. (AP)—It's not unusual for a sea captain named Carlsen to battle a storm off the English coast trying to get to Falmouth. A Hoquion stevedore boss, Fred Hedin, was reminded of this recently during the travial of the Flying Enterprise.

Forty-one years ago, Hedin, then an 18-year-old seaman, says he was aboard a barque which was buffeted by a hurrican in the same waters. The barque was the Yemer, a three-master three weeks out of Liverpool enroute to Mobile, Ala.

The hurricane sheared off all her rigging, leaving only the stumps of masts. The upper masts and the booms dragged alongside, threatening to pound a hole in the side of the wooden ship. A fire kept the crew busy. The ship finally was sighted and towed into Falmouth.

The Yemer's captain was named K. R. Cerlsen.

Russian Building Being Restored

MOSCOW (AP)—The Grand Palace of Peterhof—an outstanding monument of Russian architecture near Leningrad—is being restored.

During the war the center part of the palace was torn down by the Germans and only a half-ruined doorway and shattered windows remained.

So far, the walls of the building have been restored and work has begun on re-building the beams of the floors and ceilings of many of the apartments.

COLD CHICKEN—You've heard of the "cat's pajamas," but this is perhaps the first time anyone has designed leghorn lingerie. Mrs. Eva Anderson, of Hartwick, Pa., won a nation-wide sewing machine contest by submitting the idea for the two-piece undies and she and "Minnie," a Black Minorca hen are shown in New York as Minnie models the garment. Mrs. Anderson first produced the articles when a blizzard pulled a fowl trick by blowing in when her prized flock was molting. The flannels saved the flock.

LOYAL TO THE CROWN—More than 60 years of service to the Crown will be rewarded when Yeoman David Strake, 84, receives the insignia of a member of the Royal Victorian Order from the Duke of Gloucester, at Buckingham Palace. Strake, whose service record dates back to 1889, has been a member of the Guard at the Tower of London since 1918. He is seen in quarters as he polishes his sword in preparation for the ceremony.

Photographic coverage of the Korean combat zone, showing enemy troop maneuvers, bomb targets and bombing effectiveness, is provided by a navy squadron with headquarters at San Diego, Calif.

Marvin E. Harvey, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harvey, route 5, Sedalia, is serving with the fighter-photo team whic' is the only squadron of its type. Composite Squadron 61 operates from several aircraft carriers with the Pacific Fleet.

Men of the squadron fly in the Navy's F9F Panther Jets to gather the information for the United Nations intelligence commands.

Armed Forces Day Set For May 17th

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman yesterday proclaimed Saturday, May 17, as Armed Forces Day and directed government officials to co-operate with civil authorities in commemorative ceremonies.

The proclamation, made public by the White House, also invited state governors to arrange celebrations in honor of members of the armed forces. The President asked all citizens to display the flag on that day.

Eldorado 4-H Club Has Second Meeting

The Eldorado 4-H Club met for the second time March 19. Seven members and 15 visitors were present for the meeting at the home of Cletis Allen.

The club decided to carry wildlife conservation as the special project. The next meeting will be spent in planning the program books.

US Grenades Kill Four Jap Farmers

SENDAI, Japan (AP)—Four Japanese farmers were killed and three wounded Friday by grenades tossed by American soldiers on a drill ground near here, the U. S. Army said. The area had been put off limits by the Army but apparently farmers were not aware of the restriction.

If a lump of potassium is thrown into water, the metal will start to burn.

NOW MASSEY-HARRIS TRACTORS WITH Roto Valves

Positive Roto Valves in Massey-Harris tractors consist of a series of coil springs and ball bearings enclosed in a collar and retainer cap assembly on the valve stem. Each time the valve opens, pressure on the bearings causes them to roll, forcing the entire valve to turn. Valves are constantly rotating . . . eliminating carbon build-up and distortion of the valve seats and stems. The result is equalized wear . . . clean, tight-fitting valves . . . and peak engine efficiency with greater power output per gallon regardless of the quality of fuel.

What the FORD NAME means to those who feed America!

MODEL "T" FORD

LABORATORY RESEARCH

1917 FORDSON TRACTOR

TODAY'S FORD TRACTOR

From the beginning, the name "Ford" has identified a company that understands the needs and wants of farmers. To millions of farmers, the Ford name recalls the cars and trucks that could always "get through"—and Ford-built tractors that took away much of the drudgery of farming.

Just ahead of the "Model T's" radiator cap were new and better farm markets—a practical way to carry farm youth to a better education—new vistas and opportunities for the entire farm family.

The Ford name means the millions of dollars that went into research for crops convertible into industrial products and for ways of converting them. The Ford Motor Company's soybean oil extractor, that opened a huge market for this great cash crop, is a notable example of the results of such research.

Such were some of the major Ford contributions to the betterment of agriculture and the entire nation. But many farmers regard the tractor, prime source of farm power, as a still larger Ford service to agriculture.

For the Fordson Tractor that came on the market in 1917 was the world's first mass-produced, really low-priced tractor. Fordsons went to the farms one-half million strong, powerful proof that they met basic needs.

Today's Ford Tractor

The name "Ford" on a tractor today means engineering experience, manufacturing skill, and volume production resources that few machines in any field command. These factors provide the Ford Tractor's high quality, low price.

Outstanding performance is another reason for Ford Tractor popularity. That helps assure its high resale value, as does the certainty that parts can always be had.

To the nation's farmers, getting ready for more efficient and abundant production, Ford Farming means better work, more production!

Amazing Cures For Cancer Tried on Rats

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Some amazing cures of cancer in rats have centered attention on the experiments of Dr. Ryojun Kinosita, a Japanese scientist working at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Dr. Kinosita reported 100 per cent cures among rats which had been given a highly malignant form of tumor called ascites (as-site'-ese) cancer.

The cure was a chemical substance, triethylene melamine, or tem for short. It has been tried with only small success on human cancer. But it works wonders on this form of malignancy in rats. If Dr. Kinosita can find out why, he may learn something of great value about the cause of treatment of human malignancy.

To extend his work the California division of the American Cancer Society announced today a research grant of $3,600.

This type of cancer is a peculiar one developed in rats. It can be transferred from one rat to another by injections of tumor extract. The ascites or body fluid of a cancerous rat containing cells which apparently include particles that cause the malignancy.

Dr. Kinosita bred two strains of rats, one highly susceptible to and one very resistant to this form of cancer.

Ascitic fluid from a cancerous rat injected into a susceptible rat kills the recipient in eight days. Resistant rats can receive the fluid and remain free of malignancy.

Dr. Kinosita found, however, he could make the resistant rats susceptible by injecting them with an extract from the liver of susceptible rats. He is now separating liver cells into their chemical parts in an attempt to find the factor which causes susceptibility.

In the susceptible rats, nothing will stop the growth of the cancer except tem. They are injected with the cancer-causing ascitic fluid. Five days later they are injected with tem. Animals thus treated die of old age, cancer free.

Dr. Kinosita's results are rated as the first authenic 100 per cent cure of animal cancer with chemicals.

Dowdy of Windsor Now at Alaska Post

Life on one of America's last frontiers is the duty station of Leroy E. Dowdy, yeoman seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dowdy, route 2, Windsor, serving at the U. S. Naval Station, Kodiak, Alaska.

Dowdy, who entered the Naval service Aug. 4, 1950, received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. Before entering the Navy, he was graduated from Green Ridge Consolidated High School.

Kodiak, a large island off the southern coast of Alaska, was the capital of the Russian colonial empire before the United States acquired the territory.

The Navy's role in Alaska is manifold. It operates weather stations, ship repair units, air facilities and maintains a scientific research station and base camp for the Navy's oil exploration program.

A fungus disease has destroyed proctically all native chestnut trees in the United States.

Self-Employed May Get Special Security Credits In May

A self-employed person who had no social security wage credits before 1951 may become insured as early as April of this year because of self-employment since that time. Claims filed in 1952, however, and based on self-employment alone, will lead to reduced payments.

Scott Webber, manager of the Sedalia social security office, explains this by stating that self-employment earnings in the year a claim is filed count toward making a payment possible but do not count toward figuring the amount of the payment. Where social security benefits are based on self-employment alone, the earnings of at least two full years are needed to make possible the largest benefit payment, Webber says.

For this reason the social security office will examine each retirement claim filed by a self-employed person during 1952 to determine whether the amount of the payment would be increased if the claim were filed in 1953. If so, the social security office will point out the advantage of postponing the application until January 1953, and the retired person may decide whether or not to do so.

Pat Clark Explains Carving and Drawing

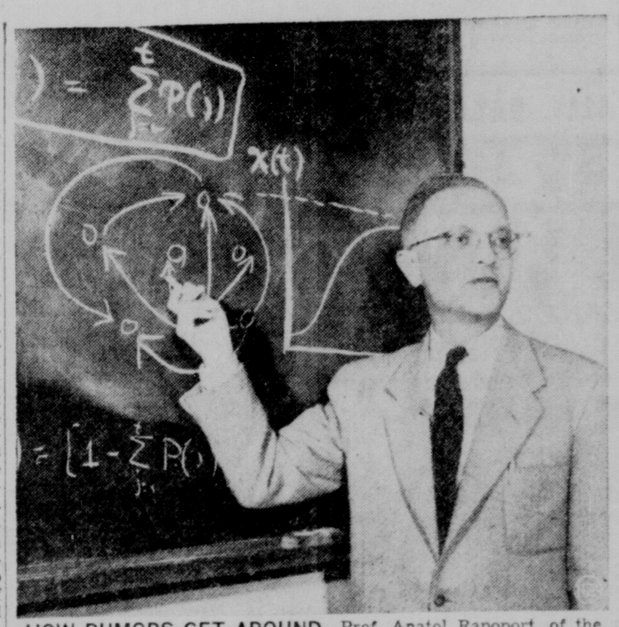

Pat Clark talked about carving during the meeting of the Van Natta Multi-Workers Club held at the schoolhouse, March 18. He illustrated how to scale-draw and copy drawings to 12 members. George Albert Buchholz made a demonstration on tying a hand bandage. Mary Ann Lewis showed how to lengthen and shorten dress patterns. Larry Gene Gorrell talked on sheep.

The next meeting will be held April 14 at the schoolhouse.

Don't Blame The Dog

TELUK ANSON, Malaya, (AP)—A young Chinese girl, charged with failure to muzle her dog and allowing him to bite another girl, told the court:

"My dog did not bite her. It was I who bit her in a quarrel." The girl, 16, was found guilty and fined.

HOW RUMORS GET AROUND—Prof. Anatol Rapoport, of the University of Chicago, explains, by means of a mathematical formula, how rumors circulate in a population. Explaining mass behavior in mathematical terms is one example of work being carried on by Rapoport and other researchers in a new branch of science, mathematical biology.

Chester Brown Will Speak at Warrensburg

Chester A. Brown, executive-manager of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest speaker Monday night at a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Warrensburg. He will speak on: "The Relationship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce."

Special guests at the meeting will be the wives of the members of the club, the mayor of Warrensburg and members of the city council.
